Congress Set To OK LBJ's 'Inflation Plan'

Some Business
Tax Incentives
To Be Suspended

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressmen today sped consideration of President Johnson's new proposal for fighting inflation by suspending some business tax incentives.

The House Ways and Means Committee announced hearings next Monday on the presidential plan — outlined in a special message Thursday — to suspend for 6 months the 7-per-cent tax credit for business spending on equipment and the tax-advantageous fast depreciation rules on business real estate.

The legislation was quickly introduced Thursday by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., committee chairman, who said the first witnesses will include Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler, Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor and Budget Director Charles L. Schultze.

In the Senate, Majority Leader Mike Mansfield announced that Democratic leaders in Congress had been consulted in advance of the message and had assured the President of their cooperation.

And Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., head of the Finance Committee, said that group will consider Johnson's proposals at a (Continued on Page 2)

Transportation Research Center Site Is Revealed

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes said today that Ohio's new $25 million transportation research center, to be built and operated by Ohio State University, will be located on a 5,000-acre tract along U.S. 33 about midway between Marysville and Bellefontaine.

Rhodes told newsmen that initial funds for the transportation research center came from the $1 million appropriated by the State Highway Department and Ohio State university.

Compromise On Rhodesia Shaping Up

LONDON (AP) — A compromise program to end the rebellion in Rhodesia, including compulsory oil sanctions voted by the United Nations, was reported shaping up today in the Commonwealth conference.

Conference sources said in return for the oil sanctions and British agreement to refuse independence to Rhodesia until rule by the black majority is assured, the African members of the Commonwealth would silence, at least for a reasonable time, their demands that British troops overthrow Prime Minister Ian Smith's white minority government.

Only four white members — Australia, Britain, Canada and New Zealand — and Malaysia oppose the use of force to put down the rebellion by the white minority.

The rest of the 23-nation group of African, Asian and Caribbean countries want assurance that the colony's 4 million black Africans will get control of the government. Smith's government, representing the 225,000 Rhodesian whites, declared independence from Britain last November to block black rule.

Gemini 11 Launching Slated To Go Saturday

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The space agency today rescheduled the launch of Gemini 11 for Saturday.

A pinhole leak in the fuel system of the Titan 2 booster rocket forced a postponement of today's launching.

The leak was discovered just three hours before astronauts Charles Conrad Jr. and Richard F. Gordon Jr. were to wake up to start preparations for their three-day mission. They were allowed to continue sleeping.

Technicians tried to repair the leak in time to launch Gemini 11 Saturday, a National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman said.

A final decision whether or not this would be possible was not expected until late this morning, however, after technicians clean part of the fuel system and get a closer look.

A postponement of two or more days appeared more likely. Aiming to minimize the delay to 24 hours, technicians unloaded only the leaking tank, the spokesman said, keeping fuel inside other tanks aboard the Titan 2 rocket.

The leak, in the first stage, was first detected by a technician checking ordnance devices on the rocket after its tanks had been loaded with 13,700 gallons of fuel and 15,900 gallons of oxidizer.

He noted a tell-tale reddish-brown wisp of vapor that indicated a leak and reported it to the blockhouse. About the same time, it was noted by instruments in the blockhouse.

"It was only a pinhole in a welded area," an official said. "But you can't fly with that type of situation."

The hole was so tiny that more vapor than liquid was escaping.

If the leak can be repaired by a simple "tire patch" operation from the outside, the rocket could be ready to go in a day or so, officials said. But if the top of the oxidizer tank has to be removed and a man lowered into the trouble area, a delay of several days is likely, he added.

The Titan 2 oxidizer is nitrogen tetroxide. It is needed to provide oxygen for the main fuel, a mixture called aerazine 50, in the void of space.

This was the first major problem in the preparations for Gemini 11 — whose Sept. 9 launch date was set several months ago.

When the leak developed, the countdown on Gemini 11's Atlas-Agena target rocket on its pad 6,000 feet away was moving smoothly toward an intended 7:48 a.m. EST launching. That count was halted as soon as it was determined that the Titan 2 could not get off today.

Miss Ohio Is Wow in Beauty Test

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Clutching a tiny American flag and wearing a stars-and-stripes dress, Miss Ohio sang a patriotic song that brought 7,000 spectators to their feet in a rousing ovation Thursday night.

"What's better than a song about my country?" an excited Sharon Elaine Phillian said.

The scene was the second round of competition in the Miss America Pageant at Convention Hall.

Sharon had just captured the talent prize by singing "This Is My Country" in a coloratura voice that rang through the huge auditorium.

She shared preliminary honors with another blonde, Miss South Carolina, Barbara Anne Harris of Greenville, whose 36-22-36 figure won the swimsuit competition.

Miss Ohio first appeared on stage in an emerald green, floor-length gown and sang an operatic selection, the "Bell Song" from "Lakme."

She reappeared moments later in a star-spangled red, white and blue floor-length dress. The audience cheered.

While newsmen questioned Sharon backstage, the reigning Miss America, Deborah Bryant, wiped away lipstick from Miss Ohio's cheeks left by other contestants who congratulated her with kisses.

Sharon, soloist for her hometown Presbyterian church in Delaware, Ohio, aspires to be an opera star. If she doesn't succeed in that she wants to work with disturbed children.

A senior at Ohio State University, Sharon is studying child psychology.

Miss South Carolina, keeps trim by eating steak and avoiding sweets.

The two girls joined Miss New Hampshire, Nancy Anne Naylor, and Miss California, Charlene Diane Dallas, as winners of preliminary rounds.

From the winners of the preliminary competition, which continues tonight, 10 semifinalists will be chosen for the finals Saturday night.

Auto Safety Bill Readied

President Set
To Sign Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signs into law the auto and highway safety bills today before an audience of congressmen, auto company officials, safety experts and auto industry critic Ralph Nader.

One bill gives the secretary of commerce authority to set safety standards for 1968 model cars, buses and trucks and to set standards within two years on tires and used cars.

The other provides funds for comprehensive state safety programs including driver education, vehicle inspection, highway lighting and traffic control.

Nader, 32, the attorney whose book "Unsafe at Any Speed" helped spur congressional action, said Thursday night he had been invited to the afternoon ceremony.

He said in an interview the final auto safety bill is "much better and stronger" than he had expected and that the Senate-House Conference Committee "accepted the best provisions of each bill, immeasurably strengthening it."

The conference committee accepted the stiffer enforcement provisions of the Senate's bill while adopting the broader coverage in the House version, including the authority for the government to set used-car safety standards within two years.

The auto safety law almost certainly would mean that 1968 cars will contain safety features such as head rests, dual brakes and additional interior padding which the government already has decided to require in cars it buys that year.

The other measure is directed at states. Under it, those that fail to put programs into operation by Dec. 31, 1968, could lose 10 per cent of their federal highway aid. The secretary of commerce could waive this provision.

Both the highway and auto safety programs are to be administered in the Department of Commerce by a presidentially appointed national traffic safety administrator. Both are expected to wind up later in the proposed Department of Transportation.

Civil War Talk

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Premier Youssef Zayyan of Syria announced today that an attempt to overthrow his leftist regime was crushed Thursday night. But independent reports reaching Beirut indicated the threat of civil war still hangs over Syria.

Syria's borders with the outside world were closed, an indefinite curfew was being maintained, and troops guarded the Ministry of Defense radio station and patrolled the streets of the Syrian army outside Damascus but these could not be confirmed.

School Not Running
'Kennel for Poodles'

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — About a dozen Middletown High School pupils have been sent home this week by officials enforcing rules barring "eccentric" haircuts and clothing.

Asked about some of the boys' shaggy hairdos, Principal H. H. Lawrence said, "We are not running a kennel for poodles."

Pentagon Admits Builders In Viet Nam 'Misled'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon admits it misled civilian contractors in the billion-dollar Viet Nam construction program by overstating probable contract awards and underestimating costs.

In the wake of reports alleging company waste and mismanagement, defense officials praised the private combine known as RMK-BRJ for doing "an amazingly competent" job under tough circumstances.

The consortium, Pentagon officials said in an interview, was steered wrong on two counts:

The firm was told last December to gear for a $960-million program, then was awarded only $780 million in projects.

The $780 million turned out to be a faulty figure about $200 million low, and the Pentagon must dip into contingency funds to pay the extra amount.

RMK-BRJ, building nearly 80 per cent of the U. S. military facilities for the war effort, consists of Raymond International Inc., of New York; Morrison-Knudsen of Boise, Idaho; Brown and Root of Houston, Tex.; and the J.A. Jones Construction Co. of Charlotte, N.C.

"The contractor has come to us and said 'you're wrong,'" a top military planner told newsmen Thursday. "He now needs $200 million more to finish the projects currently authorized due to underestimations by the Air Force, Navy and Army."

The government will pay this cost increase under provisions of the company's contract, he said.

From RMK-BRJ's view, how-

$1.02 Billion For Military Given Nod

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee called today for closer auditing of the vast military construction program in Viet Nam as it recommended $1.02 billion in new funds for domestic and foreign military construction projects.

The amount approved is subject to House action next week. Most of it was earmarked for improvement of military bases and construction of housing for personnel.

In stressing the need for increased audit programs in Viet Nam, the committee said the remoteness of the area and problems involved are "unprecedented in such a small geographical area."

The value of military construction in use in Viet Nam at the end of July, it said, is estimated at $138 million and is increasing at the rate of $40 million monthly.

Among military construction items approved were these in Ohio:

Air Force—Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, $3,848,000.

Defense supply agency—Defense Construction Supply Center, Columbus, $59,000. Defense Electronics Supply Center, Dayton, $428,000.

ever, there is a touchy point involved. Its fee is based on a percentage of the originally estimated cost for a given project. And Pentagon officials acknowledge the company may get little or no fee from the added $200 million — even though low Defense Department estimates were at fault.

Ranking officers said the proposed reduction — from $960 million to $780 million — signified no slowdown or curtailment of the Viet Nam construction effort.

If anything, the building program has expanded, they said. From now until at least January, RMK-BRJ will be completing $35 million to $40 million a month in temporary troop quarters, airfields and port facilities for the U.S. command in Saigon.

Second GI Guilty of Viet Dodge

FT. DIX, N.J. (AP) — Pfc. James A. Johnson Jr. was convicted today of refusing to obey an order to go to Viet Nam. The seven-man military court delivered the verdict after 16 minutes of deliberation.

Johnson, the second of three soldiers charged with refusing to go to Saigon, appeared to smile nervously as the board returned from deliberation.

He marched smartly up to the president of the general courtmartial, Col. Morris Zebrowitz. He saluted and heard the verdict.

After hearing the verdict, he again saluted, did an about face and was expressionless as he marched back to his seat.

Earlier Johnson had testified that he felt he would be a "criminal" if he fought there. The defense rested its case after the defendant spent 15 minutes on the stand.

He said while at Ft. Hood, Tex., he had asked his commanding officer, his chaplain, and the judge advocate how he could avoid being sent to Viet Nam.

The judge advocate had replied, Johnson testified, "Only if your mother were on her deathbed."

Sniper's Deadly Tumor Bared

It Alone Not Blamed for Act

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Charles J. Whitman had a deadly tumor growing in his brain when he went on his murderous sniper rampage Aug. 1, a team of national medical experts says.

They said it probably would have killed him within a year.

But that tumor, about an inch in diameter, could not have been the sole reason why Whitman killed 16 persons and wounded 30 others, said a member of the 32-man panel.

The panel said it did not know exactly why Whitman did what he did.

The rapidly growing tumor, about 3 or 4 months old, "could only have been of secondary influence, not the primary cause of his behavior," said Dr. Harry M. Zimmerman of the Montefiore Hospital, New York.

Dr. Dana L. Farnsworth of Harvard University said Whitman was not psychotic, but neither was he rational.

"He was," Farnsworth said, "a troubled man, acting on strong impulses in an organized way. He felt strongly something was going on inside himself which he did not understand. He was strongly impelled by emotional influences beyond his control."

Information from friends and instructors about Whitman, said Dr. Hamilton Ford of the Texas University medical branch at Galveston, indicated that Whitman "felt insecure, inadequate in not performing as he should. This is descriptive of inner guilt."

"It all added up," said Farnsworth, "to a man becoming more and more vulnerable to accumulated stresses with which he was dealing in a less and less satisfactory manner."

Reaction by Business To LBJ Proposal Varies

NEW YORK (AP) — Business leaders have expressed varying degrees of dissatisfaction with President Johnson's proposal to dampen the fired-up economy by removing tax incentives for new plants and equipment.

Some executives criticized its timing and completeness and questioned whether it would have an immediate effect on inflation and high interest costs, a survey showed today.

Two financial experts, however, applauded the psychological effect of the move.

The plan received a pledge of support from organized labor. Heading the list of the proposal's critics were Roger Blough, chairman of the U.S. Steel Corp. and William F. Butler, senior vice president of the Chase Manhattan Bank and director of its economic research division.

Both called it "a mistake." "It's not the best program he could have proposed," Butler said, "because orders already placed will allow capital expansion to go on rising, possibly for another six months. The impact may come at the worst time, just as the overheating is ending."

Blough said the plan would not bring immediate relief and could have "just the opposite result of what it intended" by placing additional pressure on corporate borrowing or prices.

The President proposed that Congress suspend the 7 per cent investment tax credit for 16 months. Johnson promised on his part to cut federal spending and appealed to labor to forego demands for inflationary wage increases.

Some praise for the psychological effect of the proposal came from Butler and David S. Jackson, chairman of the board

Infiltrators Under Attack Near Saigon

Communists Seek To Disrupt Poll
Set for Sunday

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. fliers bombed and strafed an infiltrating guerrilla band practically on the outskirts of Saigon tonight. The dazzling yellow light of parachute flares outlined the city's buildings and reverberations from the explosions jolted the downtown area.

Jets and helicopters joined the attack on the Viet Cong, who were reported probing along a canal which is the capital's southern boundary. The Communists want to wreck the election Sunday of a constituent assembly and their efforts have centered largely in the Saigon area, which has about a quarter of South Viet Nam's population.

The strength of the attackers was not determined. But Vietnamese police sources said about 30 crossed the canal and went into hiding in the 4th Precinct — an area of houseboats, shanties and slum dwellings.

South Vietnamese infantrymen reported they killed 50 main force Viet Cong troops in a fierce battle in the central lowlands near the South China Sea Coast. A spokesman said U.S. Air Force planes accounted for up to 50 more Communist dead.

The fighting was the only large action reported during another day of scattered Viet Cong terrorism aimed at disrupting South Viet Nam's elections Sunday. At least five persons were killed.

American pilots flew 135 bombing missions against North Viet Nam Thursday, concentrating on oil supply points and transportation lines in the Haiphong area and the southern Panhandle.

During a 13-hour attack, Air Force pilots hammered surface-to-air missile transport vans discovered 30 miles northwest of Dong Hoi. Eight flights of jets pummeled the missile equipment, destroying or damaging six vans with rockets and 500-pound bombs, a spokesman said.

The forays against the North also damaged or destroyed 36 cargo barges, 15 bridges, 32 trucks and 20 storage buildings, pilots reported.

U.S. military headquarters disclosed that the North Vietnamese are putting up barrage balloons as anti-aircraft defenses in the Haiphong area.

A spokesman said the balloons, about 12 to 15 feet in diameter and moored to cables, were raised to an altitude of 3,000 feet. The tactic was reminiscent of London's defenses against German planes in the early days of World War II.

The spokesman said none of the balloons had been shot down by U.S. planes nor had any planes flown into them.

The ground battle occurred in coastal Binh Dinh Province in mid-afternoon when a battalion of Vietnamese infantrymen en-

Transportation Research Center Site Is Revealed

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes said today that Ohio's new $25 million transportation research center, to be built and operated by Ohio State University, will be located on a 5,000-acre tract along U.S. 33 about midway between Marysville and Bellefontaine.

Rhodes said the facility will be only one anywhere equipped for both theoretical and practical research center on all three components of a transportation system—driver, vehicle, and roadway. There will be strong emphasis on testing of "hardware" to make the center particularly useful to manufacturers.

Ohio State, already regarded as a leader in transportation research, is well-equipped to map the program and operate the new center, the governor said. About $2.7 million in highway research contracts are now in force at the OSU engineering experiment station.

Plans call for the center to include 60 to 70 miles of roadway, and eight-mile high speed track, single and multiple-lane roads, plus an array of interchange ramps, grades and intersections, all for experimental purposes. About 100,000 square feet of building space plus a twin-jet air strip also will be included.

Senate Is Aboard Talk Treadmill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate climbs back today on what Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield describes as "the same treadmill" of the slow-moving civil rights dispute.

Mansfield added that he has no plans to speed things up, "on the basis of the way we're going."

After two days of trying, the Senate mustered enough members Thursday — 51 senators — for Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., to begin a filibuster assault on the measure.

But by the time Thurmond started the debate on the motion to take up the bill, only a few of the senators remained on the floor. Some, reportedly, were leaving town for the weekend.

Lake Erie, Ohio River Canal Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Construction of a billion dollar Lake Erie-Ohio River canal has been recommended by the Board of Army Engineers, Rep. Michael J. Kirwin, D-Ohio, said today.

Kirwin, chairman of the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Public Works, said he would try to get an appropriation this year for planning of the project.

He told a news conference $500,000 of planning funds is in a public works appropriations bill expected to be approved by the full committee next week.

Brig. Gen. W. P. Leber, the division army engineer at Cincinnati, had reported the canal is feasible.

A private group has estimated the canal would cost more than $2 billion. Army engineers estimated it would cost $948 million.

Kirwin said the canal was authorized by Congress in 1935 but its construction was delayed because of World War II and the Korean War. It isn't clear whether Congress would have to reauthorize the project. In any case, construction could not begin until Congress provides the money.

Auto Safety Bill Readied

President Set To Sign Today

Reaction by Business To LBJ Proposal Varies

NEW YORK (AP) — Business leaders have expressed varying degrees of dissatisfaction with President Johnson's proposal to dampen the fired-up economy by removing tax incentives for new plants and equipment.

Some executives criticized its timing and completeness and questioned whether it would have an immediate effect on inflation and high interest costs, a survey showed today.

Two financial experts, however, applauded the psychological effect of the move.

The plan received a pledge of support from organized labor. Heading the list of the proposal's critics were Roger Blough, chairman of the U.S. Steel Corp. and William F. Butler, senior vice president of the Chase Manhattan Bank and director of its economic research division.

Both called it "a mistake." "It's not the best program we could have proposed," Butler said, "because owners already placed will allow capital expansion to go on rising, possibly for another six months. The impact may come at the worst time, just as the overheating is ending."

Blough said the plan would not bring immediate relief and could have "just the opposite result of what it intended" by placing additional pressure on corporate borrowing or prices.

The President proposed that Congress suspend the 7 per cent investment tax credit for 16 months. Johnson promised on his part to cut federal spending and appealed to labor to forego demands for inflationary wage increases.

Some praise for the psychological effect of the proposal came from Butler and David S. Jackson, chairman of the board

Communists Seek To Disrupt Poll Set for Sunday

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. fliers bombed and strafed an infiltrating guerrilla band practically on the outskirts of Saigon tonight. The dazzling yellow light of parachute flares outlined the city's buildings and reverberations from the explosions jolted the downtown area.

Jets and helicopters joined the attack on the Viet Cong, who were reported probing along a canal which is the capital's southern boundary. The Communists want to wreck the election Sunday of a constituent assembly and their efforts have centered largely in the Saigon area, which has about a quarter of South Viet Nam's population.

The strength of the attackers was not determined. But Vietnamese police sources said about 30 crossed the canal and went into hiding in the 4th Precinct — an area of houseboats, shanties and slum dwellings.

South Vietnamese infantrymen reported they killed 50 main force Viet Cong troops in a fierce battle in the central lowlands near the South China Sea Coast. A spokesman said U.S. Air Force planes accounted for up to 50 more Communist dead.

The fighting was the only large action reported during another day of scattered Viet Cong terrorism aimed at disrupting South Viet Nam's elections Sunday. At least five persons were killed.

American pilots flew 135 bombing missions against North Viet Nam Thursday, concentrating on oil supply points and transportation lines in the Hai Phong area and the southern Panhandle.

During a 13 hour attack, Air Force pilots hammered surface-to-air missile transport vans discovered 30 miles northwest of Dong Hoi. Eight flights of jets pummeled the missile equipment, destroying or damaging six vans with rockets and 500-pound bombs, a spokesman said.

The forays against the North also damaged or destroyed 36 cargo barges, 15 bridges, 32 trucks and 20 storage buildings, pilots reported.

U.S. military headquarters disclosed that the North Vietnamese are putting up barrage balloons as anti-aircraft defenses in the Hai Phong area.

A spokesman said the balloons, about 12 to 15 feet in diameter and moored to cables, were raised to an altitude of 3,000 feet. The tactic was reminiscent of London's defenses against German planes in the early days of World War II.

The spokesman said none of the balloons had been shot down by U.S. planes nor had any planes flown into them.

The ground battle occurred in coastal Binh Dinh Province in mid-afternoon when a battalion of Vietnamese infantrymen en-

Gemini 11 Launching Slated To Go Saturday

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The space agency today re-scheduled the launch of Gemini 11 for Saturday.

A pinhole leak in the fuel system of the Titan 2 booster rocket forced a postponement of today's launching.

The leak was discovered just three hours before astronauts Charles Conrad Jr. and Richard F. Gordon Jr. were to wake up to start preparations for their three day mission. They were allowed to continue sleeping.

Technicians tried to repair the leak in time to launch Gemini 11 Saturday, a National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman said.

A final decision whether or not this would be possible was not expected until late this morning, however, after technicians clean part of the fuel system and get a closer look.

A postponement of two or more days appeared more likely.

Aiming to minimize the delay to 24 hours, technicians unloaded only the leaking tank, the spokesman said, keeping fuel inside other tanks aboard the Titan 2 rocket.

The leak, in the first stage, was first detected by a technician checking ordnance devices on the rocket after its tanks had been loaded with 13,700 gallons of fuel and 15,900 gallons of oxidizer.

He noted a tell-tale reddish-brown wisp of vapor that indicated a leak and reported it to the blockhouse. About the same time, it was noted by instruments in the blockhouse.

"It was only a pinhole in a welded area," an official said. "But you can't fly with that type of situation."

The hole was so tiny that more vapor than liquid was escaping.

If the leak can be repaired by a simple "tire patch" operation from the outside, the rocket could be ready to go in a day or so, officials said. But if the top of the oxidizer tank has to be removed and a man lowered into the trouble area, a delay of several days is likely, he added.

The Titan 2 oxidizer is nitrogen tetroxide. It is needed to provide oxygen for the main fuel, a mixture called aerazine 50, in the void of space.

This was the first major problem in the preparations for Gemini 11 — whose Sept. 9 launch date was set several months ago.

When the leak developed, the countdown on Gemini 11's Atlas-Agena target rocket on its pad 6,000 feet away was moving smoothly toward an intended 7:48 a.m. EST launching. That count was halted as soon as it was determined that the Titan 2 could not get off today.

119 Pints Collected Here During Bloodmobile Visit

A visit here Thursday by the Red Cross Bloodmobile produced a collection of 119 pints, six short of the usual 125 goal.

A total of 151 persons volunteered. But 32 were rejected for various medical reasons, according to Mrs. Roloff Wolford, executive secretary of the local Red Cross chapter.

Robert Wilson received a pin Thursday for having donated a total of six gallons of blood. Mrs. Sterling Poling's one-pint contribution yesterday earned her a five-gallon donor's pin. Awarded two - gallon donors' pins were Gail Goldsberry and Wayne Koonce. One-gallon donors are Evelyn Carter, David Garrett, Mary Croman, Raymond Russell, Jerry Sherwood and Waneta Garner.

Clare Silkwood, chairman of the Rotary Club sponsored blood program, today expressed appreciation to area merchants who helped advertise the mobile unit visit. Pleased with the Thursday turnout, he noted that the community now stands at a commendable 103 per cent collection average for the year.

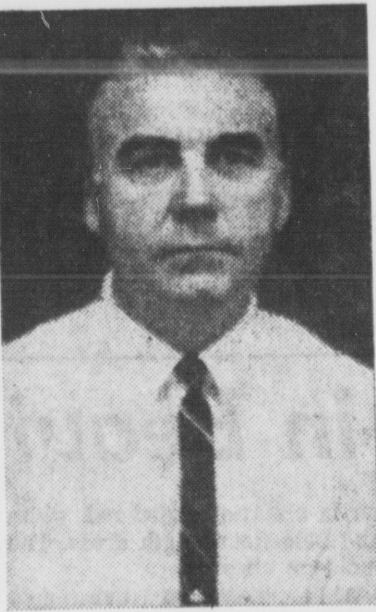

SILKWOOD noted that two more visits are due in 1966. They are set for Nov. 11 and Dec. 29.

The canteen was sponsored by the Nebraska Grange with the following members assisting: Mrs. Thaddeus Cromley, Mrs. Archie Peters, Mrs. Alvin Recobs, Mrs. Emerson Hoffhines, Mrs. Daniel Eitel.

Congress Set

early date. The House must act first on the legislation.

In his surprise message, Johnson said the stimulus to the equipment improvement needed a few years ago now is overstraining supplying factors and clogging capital markets with excessive demands for credit.

The business tax credit applies not only to equipment and machinery purchased by industry but to such farm production equipment as tractors. It does not, however, apply to livestock investments.

In his message to Congress, Johnson pledged to "cut all federal expenditures to the fullest extent consistent with the well-being of our people." Moreover he told Congress, bills it has already passed have added about $2.25 billion to the spending authority he requested and pending bills could add almost $4 billion.

He said: "When the Congress votes for add-ons to the remaining eight appropriation bills, it must bear in mind that each vote to increase the budget will likely require a vote to increase the revenue later."

This plea for restraint in spending — coupled with warnings that budget excesses might require more direct tax boosts — stirred speculation.

Some members of Congress wondered whether a general tax increase request already is being prepared for January. Others reassessed the chances of the $1.75-billion poverty bill and the $5.7-billion two-year program of federal help for elementary and secondary schools.

The poverty bill as now pending is within Johnson's fiscal recommendations, but the education bill is $500 million above the budget. Both measures have had parliamentary troubles and now are being handled under procedures that could make them eligible for House consideration Sept. 26.

Johnson's message, however, contained some reassurances for backers of this kind of legislation. He said "a compassionate and mature people will not make the poor carry the burden of fighting inflation. It would be shortsighted to abandon the tasks of educating our children, providing for their health, rebuilding the decaying cities in which they live, and otherwise promoting the general welfare."

met with local civic leaders. Primary purpose of the meeting, held at Noel's King Boy South, was to discuss various resolutions that have been submitted by Farm Bureau Councils in the county. The ultimate objective is to come up with a sound platform that will be adopted as Farm Bureau policy.

Heading up the fact - finding session was Dick Tootle, chairman of the Farm Bureau Policy Development Committee. Most of the discussion focused on countywide planning and zoning, current educational problems and the effort here to secure an airport for Pickaway County.

Reviewing merits of all three topics were Loring Leist, George Hamrick, Sandy Jones, Earl Palm, Luther List, Harold Hines, John Stevenson, Everett Beers, Ned Harden, Frank Bowling Jr., Paul Smallwood and James Shea. ***

ALSO on hand was Blake Gerber, Farm Bureau supervisor for a 21-county area.

Current status of the countywide or regional planning and zoning program was outlined by Harden, chairman of the county P&Z committee. He also commented on the merits of a water and sewage survey in Pickaway.

12 Are Indicted By Grand Jurors

Twelve persons were indicted Thursday by the September term of Pickaway County Grand Jury.

The 15 jurors met yesterday morning to consider evidence in 17 cases. Five were dismissed due to a lack of sufficient evidence to warrant indictments.

Four of the cases ignored by the jury were non - support accusations and one was a manslaughter charge.

Men freed of the non - support accusations were George Meadows, Clarksburg; David Carpenter, Circleville; Carl Large, Route 4, Chillicothe; and Paul Dunham, Route 8, Chillicothe. ***

THE manslaughter case dropped by the jury was filed against George H. Butler, Route 1, Chillicothe.

Those indicted will appear before the court on Sept. 17 for an arraignment session.

Cary Blevins, John Fyffe and George Keaton, all of Circleville, who were indicted for assault with a deadly weapon. They are accused of beating Harley R. Elder Jr. with a cue stick in a local tavern.

August Income In City Court Tops $11,000

Circleville Municipal Court listed an income of $11,132.45 during August from fines, costs and bond forfeitures.

A report, prepared by Court Clerk Naomi Houghton, showed the total share of the monies due the city of Circleville was $6,490.25.

Pickaway County's portion of the court income was $2,655.65. The treasurer of the state received $1,952.65.

There were 371 criminal cases filed during the month and 340 of these were completed.

A total of 22 civil cases were filed during the month and two marriages were performed by the judge.

There were eight civil cases concluded. Costs due the city from the marriages and the civil cases totaled $145.40.

September Gas Tax Distribution Made

Municipalities in Pickaway County received $8,759 from the state in the September distribution of gasoline taxes, according to a report from the office of Roger Cloud, auditor.

Also included in the distribution was $20,000 the county and $800 for each of the townships in Pickaway.

The educational outlook centered around financing, the need for a vocational program, alternative revenue sources and current curriculum.

The airport review drew comments on need, choice of location, aspects of financing and provisions for future operation and expansion.

Tootle explained that all resolutions received to date will come before his policy development committee next week as part of a final screening program. The Farm Bureau membership will vote on the measure during a general meeting later this year.

The Communists broke off contact Thursday night, but the Vietnamese and a battalion of South Korean infantrymen continued mopping up today in the area 260 miles northeast of Saigon.

Five Vietnamese civilians were killed and another wounded when the Viet Cong mined a three-wheel vehicle in another pre-election attack, a spokesman said.

In a hamlet three miles north of Saigon, the Viet Cong agents exploded grenades that wounded four persons.

Twelve Buddhist monks ducked past the security guard in the streets around the U.S. Embassy in Saigon to stage a brief anti-American demonstration. They unfurled banners 50 yards from the building declaring that the U.S. and South Vietnamese governments will be responsible if their leader, Thich Venerable Tri Quang, dies.

The Buddhist extremist chieftain, now in a Saigon clinic, has been subsisting on dextrose solutions for three months to protest military rule in South Viet Nam and U.S. support of the junta. Other monks began a three-day fast Thursday to encourage a boycott of the election.

Congress Set

early date. The House must act first on the legislation.

In his surprise message, Johnson said the stimulus to the equipment improvement needed a few years ago now is over-straining supplying factors and clogging capital markets with excessive demands for credit.

The business tax credit ap-plies not only to equipment and machinery purchased by indus-try but to such farm production equipment as tractors. It does not, however, apply to livestock investments.

In his message to Congress, Johnson pledged to "cut all fed-eral expenditures to the fullest extent consistent with the well-being of our people." Moreover he told Congress, bills it has already passed have added about $2.25 billion to the spend-ing authority he requested and pending bills could add almost $4 billion.

He said: "When the Congress votes for add-ons to the remain-ing eight appropriation bills, it must bear in mind that each vote to increase the budget will likely require a vote to increase the revenue later."

This plea for restraint in spending - coupled with warnings that budget excesses might require more direct tax boosts - stirred speculation.

Some members of Congress wondered whether a general tax increase request already in being prepared for January. Others reassessed the chances of the $1.75-billion poverty bill and the $5.7-billion two-year program of federal help for el-ementary and secondary schools.

The poverty bill as now pend-ing is within Johnson's fiscal recommendations, but the edu-cation bill is $500 million above the budget. Both measures have had parliamentary troubles and now are being handled under procedures that could make them eligible for House consid-eration Sept. 26.

Johnson's message, however, contained some reassurances for backers of this kind of legis-lation. He said "a compassion-ate and mature people will not make the poor carry the burden of fighting inflation. It would be shortsighted to abandon the tasks of educating our children, providing for their health, re-building the decaying cities in which they live, and otherwise promoting the general welfare."

met with local civic leaders. Primary purpose of the meeting, held at Noel's King Boy South, was to discuss var-ious resolutions that have been submitted by Farm Bu-reau Councils in the county. The ultimate objective is to come up with a sound plat-form that will be adopted as Farm Bureau policy.

Heading up the fact - find-ing session was Dick Tootle, chair-man of the Farm Bureau Policy Development Committee. Most of the discussion focused on countywide planning and zon-ing, current educational prob-lems and the effort here to se-cure an airport for Pickaway County.

Reviewing merits of all three topics were Loring Leist, George Hamrick, Sandy Jones, Earl Palm, Luther List, Harold Hines, John Stevenson, Everett Beers, Ned Harden, Frank Bowl-ing Jr., Paul Smallwood and James Shea.

ALSO on hand was Blake Ger-ber, Farm Bureau supervisor for a 21-county area.

Current status of the county-wide or regional planning and zoning program was outlined by Harden, chairman of the coun-ty P&Z committee. He also commented on the merits of a water and sewage survey in Pickaway.

The educational outlook cen-tered around financing, the need for a vocational program, alternative revenue sources and current curriculum.

Tootle explained that all reso-lutions received to date will come before his policy develop-ment committee next week as part of a final screening pro-gram. The Farm Bureau mem-bership will vote on the measure during a general meeting later this year.

12 Are Indicted By Grand Jurors

Twelve persons were indicted Thursday by the September term of Pickaway County Grand Jury.

The 15 jurors met yesterday morning to consider evidence in 17 cases. Five were dis-mitted due to a lack of suf-ficient evidence to warrant in-dictments.

Four of the cases ignored by the jury were non - support ac-cusations and one was a man-slaughter charge.

Men freed of the non - sup-port accusations were George Meadows, Clarksburg; David Carpenter, Circleville; Carl Large, Route 4, Chillicothe; and Paul Dunham, Route 8, Chillicothe.

THE manslaughter case dropped by the jury was filed against George H. Butler, Route 1, Chillicothe.

Those indicted will appear be-fore the court on Sept. 17 for an arraignment session.

Cary Blevins, John Fyffe and George Keaton, all of Circleville, who were indicted for as-sault with a deadly weapon. They are accused of beating Harley R. Elder Jr. with a cue stick in a local tavern.

August Income In City Court Tops $11,000

Circleville Municipal Court listed an income of $11,132.45 during August from fines, costs and bond forfeitures.

A report, prepared by Court Clerk Naomi Houghton, showed the total share of the monies due the city of Circleville was $6,490.25.

Pickaway County's portion of the court income was $2,655.65. The treasurer of the state re-ceived $1,952.65.

There were 371 criminal cases filed during the month and 340 of these were completed.

A total of 22 civil cases were filed during the month and two marriages were performed by the judge.

There were eight civil cases concluded. Costs due the city from the marriages and the civil cases totaled $145.40.

September Gas Tax Distribution Made Municipalities in Pickaway County received $8,759 from the state in the September distribu-tion of gasoline taxes, accord-ing to a report from the office of Roger Cloud, auditor.

Also included in the distribu-tion was $20,000 the county and $800 for each of the town-ships in Pickaway.

The hard-pressed infantrymen called in a second government battalion while the U.S. Air Force threw supersonic Phantoms, F100 Super Sabres and Skyraiders into the battle.

The Communists broke off contact Thursday night, but the Vietnamese and a battalion of South Korean infantrymen continued mopping up today in the area 260 miles northeast of Sai-gon.

Five Vietnamese civilians were killed and another wounded when the Viet Cong mined a three-wheel vehicle in another pre-election attack, a spokesman said.

In a hamlet three miles north of Saigon, the Viet Cong agents exploded grenades that wounded four persons.

Twelve Buddhist monks ducked past the security guard in the streets around the U.S. Embassy in Saigon to stage a brief anti-American demonstra-tion. They unfurled banners 30 yards from the building declaring that the U.S. and South Viet-namese governments will be re-sponsible if their leader, Thich Venerable Tri Quang, dies.

The Buddhist extremist chief-tain, now in a Saigon clinic, has been subsisting on dextrose solutions for three months to protest military rule in South Viet Nam and U.S. support of the junta. Other monks began a three-day fast Thursday to en-courage a boycott of the elec-tion.

Kennedy Mum In Boston Poll

BOSTON (AP) — A member of the late President John F. Kennedy's trusted "Irish Mafia" is running second in a Democratic primary campaign to a McCormack while Sen. Edward M. Kennedy plays the role of neutral spectator.

Kenneth P. O'Donnell, Kennedy's White House appointments secretary and a member of the "Irish Mafia" which guided his 1960 Presidential campaign, seeks the Democratic nomination for governor of Massachusetts in next Tuesday's primary.

Most, if not all, of the experts say O'Donnell is running well behind Edward J. McCormack, nephew of Speaker of the House John W. McCormack. Edward McCormack, a former state attorney general, lost a bitter race for the Senate to Edward Kennedy in 1962.

Sen. Kennedy, nominal leader of Massachusetts Democrats, declined to name his choice for the nomination at the party convention, and has refused to take a stand in the primary campaign, despite the fact that the McCormacks long have competed with the Kennedys for leadership of the state party.

Kennedy also has remained neutral in the race between former Gov. Endicott B. Peabody and Mayor John F. Collins of Boston for nomination to the U.S. Senate.

The party convention endorsed McCormack and Peabody. Some of the losers there, and some of the candidates in the primary have been critical of Sen. Kennedy in private, accusing him of refusing to exercise leadership, but none of them has publicly criticized the senator.

Also sitting back and watching the Democratic fights are Atty. Gen. Edward W. Brooke, who has no Republican opposition for nomination to the Senate, and Republican Gov. John A. Volpe, unopposed for nomination to a second term.

In addition to the Democratic convention's endorsement, Mc-

Cormack apparently has the support of most party pros for governor.

O'Donnell's biggest effort has been to let voters know who he is. As an aide to Kennedy, and to President Johnson, O'Donnell was far better known in Washington than in Massachusetts.

He has stressed his connection with the late president and tried to sell himself as a new face who can "restore trust and confidence" to state government.

The Peabody-Collins race for nomination to the Senate figures to be close with Thomas Boylston Adams adding an element of uncertainty.

Adams, a descendant of two presidents, has made Viet Nam his issue and says a vote for him "will be a vote of no confidence in the Johnson administration." He wants the United States to try to negotiate an end to the war.

Adams, a Boston businessman for 30 years and for many years an historian and writer, interrupted work on a book to make the campaign.

He is a former director of the

Bloomfield Chief Rehired

South Bloomfield Village Council adopted a resolution to reemploy Ronald Little as police chief and street commissioner for another six months.

The South Bloomfield Council met in regular session this week with Mayor Lester George presiding.

In addition to rehiring Little, the village fathers passed a resolution accepting the tax rates certified by the county auditor. They also received a petition requesting that nearby Millport be annexed if South Bloomfield gets water and sewage facilities.

Mayor George reported the village had received approval from the state of Ohio health department on the water and sewage project. The report is being forwarded to the Farmers Home administration.

Council took action to have a wire mesh fence erected around the fire escape of the city building. Blacktop sealer will be placed on the basketball court.

Peace Corps Alters Training Setup

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Peace Corps, now in its fifth year, has slowly changed the training methods it uses to prepare volunteers for duty in foreign countries.

Gradually, the corps has shifted training from the ivy-covered lecture halls of the nation's university campuses to the slum areas of the large cities, onto the Indian reservations of the Southwest and West and into the poverty pockets of Appalachia.

Volunteer trainees also are entering camps such as one in the Florida Keys which is to be similar to what the volunteers will find in the South Seas.

Or, like the Pennsylvania camp at Shawnee on Delaware — some two hours from Philadelphia — where a market place and a temple have been built to give the trainee a touch of the atmosphere of a small village in India.

Other volunteers are being sent overseas immediately to the country in which they will undergo on-the-job training.

"We're just trying to give them something new and different. A new change of life for most of them," said Brent Ashabanner, director of the Peace Corps Division of University Relations and Training.

"We found that lecture halls and tile showers are detrimental to volunteers who will be working in underdeveloped areas," Ashabanner emphasized that universities — and recently private industry — are running the training programs. They have just moved them from the campus to the field.

The Peace Corps now has 123,000 volunteers serving in 46 nations of Asia, Africa and Latin America. On Aug. 16, Sally Poland of Louisville, Ky., became the 10,000th volunteer to complete service overseas when she returned from Turkey.

Some 7,500 men and women are now in training programs which began in late June and early July and run through September. It is the largest number of trainees to sign up for any one period.

The summer programs train

the volunteers in teaching, community development, health, agriculture and foreign languages.

At least 45 different languages are being taught although the Peace Corps is geared to teach about 65.

About 36 per cent of the men and women who complete training will be sent to Latin America, 21 per cent to Africa and the remainder to the Middle East, Asia and the Far East. By year's end, the Peace Corps will have volunteers at work in 53 countries and the trust territory of the Pacific, known as Micronesia.

For the first time, trainees are preparing for assignment in Micronesia, South Korea, Guayana, Mauritania, Chad, Bechuanaland and Libya. The first volunteers to Paraguay will train in early fall.

Nearly All Hollywood Films Now Produced in Color

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The current movie world? Color it many-hued. The black-and-white film is becoming as extinct as the nickel cup of coffee.

Every feature movie being shot in Hollywood this week is in color. With one or two exceptions, all American films in production abroad are in color. A survey of major companies discloses only six black-and-white movies among those in current release, completed or in production.

Not too many years ago, film companies made a big thing of advertising that a movie was in color. Nowadays it's taken for granted that virtually all except art-house movies will be tinted.

What caused the decline and fall of the black and white movie? One of the principal causes is the same factor that has brought other changes to the film industry: Television.

Says a TV official: "All three networks are in complete color this season, and our major entertainment is feature movies — five of them on prime time each week. Our viewers would feel cheated if we played a black and white movie."

"The movie producers have gotten the message. They know their features in color will be much more valuable for resale to television."

Producer-director George Seaton cites other reasons for the swing to color. "In Germany, a color film automatically draws a 45 per cent rental while a black and white film gets only 43 per cent. The same formula applies in other countries, and it can make a big difference in a total gross.

"Also, drive-in theatre prefer color films, which show up more clearly on outdoor screens. Dark, moody black-and-white films tend to become obscure in drive-ins."

Critics have long argued that the garnish hues of film color mitigate against dramatic mood. It is significant that the year's biggest dramatic hit, "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" is in black and white.

Producer Ernest Lehman explains the reasons, "I felt that the drama would have played differently in color; it would not have had the same power and realism. Dialogue somehow sounds different when the film is in color."

"Since the action took place entirely at night, there seemed little reason for color. Also, I think Elizabeth Taylor would not have looked quite real in color; the makeup we had to use to age her would have showed."

Every feature movie being shot in Hollywood this week is in color. With one or two exceptions, all American films in production abroad are in color. A survey of major companies discloses only six black-and-white movies among those in current release, completed or in production.

Not too many years ago, film companies made a big thing of advertising that a movie was in color. Nowadays it's taken for granted that virtually all except art-house movies will be tinted.

What caused the decline and fall of the black and white movie? One of the principal causes is the same factor that has brought other changes to the film industry: Television.

Says a TV official: "All three networks are in complete color this season, and our major entertainment is feature movies — five of them on prime time each week. Our viewers would feel cheated if we played a black and white movie."

"The movie producers have gotten the message. They know their features in color will be much more valuable for resale to television."

Producer-director George Seaton cites other reasons for the swing to color. "In Germany, a color film automatically draws a 45 per cent rental while

a black and white film gets only 43 per cent. The same formula applies in other countries, and it can make a big difference in a total gross.

"Also, drive-in theatre prefer color films, which show up more clearly on outdoor screens. Dark, moody black-and-white films tend to become obscure in drive-ins."

Critics have long argued that the garish hues of film color mitigate against dramatic mood. It is significant that the year's biggest dramatic hit, "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" is in black and white.

Producer Ernest Lehman explains the reasons. "I felt that the drama would have played differently in color; it would not have had the same power and realism. Dialogue somehow sounds different when the film is in color."

"Since the action took place entirely at night, there seemed little reason for color. Also, I think Elizabeth Taylor would not have looked quite real in color; the makeup we had to use to age her would have showed."

The Numbers Game

If one goes by numbers, the past couple of years have been disastrous for the Communists. A U. S. State Department report notes significant declines in the membership of the Communist parties of West Germany (where there has been a loss of 40,000), Mexico (a 44,000 shrinkage), and Iraq (a 13,000 decline). The outlawed party in West Germany limps along with an estimated membership of 10,000, which is paltry, and the badly split Mexican party is down to 5,000.

The biggest setback to the Communists, of course, has been the almost total obliteration of any organized movement in Indonesia, where the party was outlawed in early 1966 after several months of large-scale killing of party members and a wholesale execution of party leaders. In Africa, the Sudanese Communist Party was outlawed in 1965, Ghana rid itself of the Nkrumah and Iacubus, and the Algerian Communists lost face and influence with the fall of Ben Bella's government. The Communists still maintain a position of strength in the Congo Brazzaville, where 700 Cuban soldiers, the gift of Fidel Castro, have turned up to help train a "people's militia." But Maoist Communism, which is a close relative to the Fidel Castro variety in spite of official differences in their relations with Moscow, has not been doing very well in Africa of late.

Altogether, according to the State Department's report, official Communist Party losses in non-Communist countries have been close to two million in a single year. The decline comes to 42 percent, which reduces a 1965 membership of 4,500,000 to 2,600,000 in 1966.

No doubt all this can be taken as an extremely encouraging development in the Cold War. But the West should be warned that a numbers game estimation of Communist effectiveness can be just as deceptive now as it was in the early days of the collapse of the Romanov regime in Russia. When Lenin and Trotsky returned to Russia, they had few "numbers." Lenin, it should be recalled, was never a proponent of mass parties; he depended on a rigorously trained inner core of dedicated professionals who were willing to wait for decades if necessary to take advantage of a collapse in law and order.

The relative unimportance of numbers has been astutely underlined by Cuba's Fidel Castro, whose recent twenty-sixth of July speech set the tone of the Fourth Congress of Latin American Students that has been holding its sessions this summer in Havana.

The point of Castro's speech was that both official Communist numbers and explicit Marxist ideology must come last, not first, in any successful revolution. For the visiting students for radical intellectuals to spread disaffection with capitalist establishments. Castro called for any "action" that might help prepare the soil for revolutionary awareness. Speaking of his own success in

By John Chamberlain

Cuba, he said: "We would be in a nice fix if to make a socialist revolution, we had to catechize everyone with socialism and Marxism beforehand." In short, what Castro is asking of the students is general hectoring, not immediate Communist indoctrination. Castro's advice boils down to one word: "cheat."

In their efforts to impugn the motives of the U.S. in pushing the Vietnamese War, the Communists can rely on disaffected intellectuals to do a far better propaganda job than any card-carrying Communist Party organization could possibly do. When an aged and crotchety Bertrand Russell forgets every principle of traditional Anglo-Saxon justice to set up a stacked "tribunal" to "try" President Lyndon Johnson, Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, and Secretary of State Dean Rusk as "war criminals," it hardly matters that he doesn't ask the backing of either English or American Communists. It is enough that the "court" will be captained by Jean-Paul Sartre, the French existentialist, and his faithful Simone de Beauvoir, who are impenetrable to logic and hate America simply because it is America. With such things as Lord Russell's ideas of "justice" commanding the front pages of western newspapers, why should the Communists be concerned about the size of their official party memberships? They are getting their stupidities about "imperialism" across without numbers.

Pills Offered for Hanged Over

By EDDY GILMORE
(For Hal Boyle)

LONDON (AP) — "This is," said the man behind the drugstore counter, "the first hangover cure we've ever offered the public."

He held up a small plastic tube of pills and smiled.

"Does it work?"

"We would hardly be selling it, sir, if we didn't believe in it."

His drugstore — called a chemist's shop in Britain — was one of a chain, a big chain with a long and respected reputation.

In a voice softened by years of discreet inquiry into the aches and pains of men, women and children, he asked ever so gently:

"Are you, sir, as they say, hanged over?"

"Let us say that I was chewed a bit by Old Rover last night."

"Beg pardon?" He looked puzzled.

"Yes, I'm not feeling very well, but we say hung over, not hanged over."

"Really, sir?" he chuckled. "Comes to the same thing though, what?"

"What what?"

"Hanged over and hung over," he answered, and then down to business.

"The pills are three and six" — three shillings six pence or 49 cents, for four.

On the side of the little tube, in black letters, the makers say the pellets are for hangovers.

Back home this consumer consumed not one but two, and waited.

In about 15 minutes the end of the world seemed less imminent, the little man with the hammer stopped his violent pounding inside the skull, the brown furry taste in the mouth tasted less brown and furry and the cat moving across the carpet ceased stomping.

Britain's newly advertised hangover cure is the brain child of Howard L. Rice. He says he has clinically tested it on 1,000 men and women all suffering from hangovers.

The Dunlop Committee on Safety of Drugs, a standing committee, tested it for any possible side effects. The committee reported it found none, and passed the pills for sale and consumption.

He said the lost things are vitamins in the B group.

"We've put them in the pills," said Rice.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—The mask of Wall Street seldom reveals its anguish or hope, for a Wall Street broker must abide with outward serenity his personal extremes of black pessimism and glittering optimism.

The vice president of one of the nation's best-known investment advisory houses described a few days ago the members of a group that includes some of the sharpest brains in finance.

But under even the most dismal circumstances it isn't difficult to find enthusiasm, for that too, is basic to selling securities to the country's 21 million stockholders.

As the market slid recently to its lowest in two years, six young registered representatives who had just been certified to sell, gathered over lunch and talked bullishly.

"I'd rather be coming in now than when the market is at the top," said Reginald Johnston, 28, of Boston, who had forsaken a job as industrial salesman to sell securities.

As he spoke the Dow Jones industrial stock average was in a steep decline through 800.

"There are better buying opportunities now," he said. "The big job is to convince people to buy. Perhaps a high market would be more difficult to sell; the investors would be satisfied with their brokers."

A low market "can only work to our advantage," said Blair Purcell, 29, who was a partner in a metropolitan Washington roofing materials company. "It will be difficult at first, but this is an opportunity to buy the right stock."

Michael Mahood, 26, of Houston, Tex., who once enjoyed the steadiness of an engineering job, was bullish too. He was less happy about his personal situation. "I've lost money right now," he said, "and I'm not jumping in myself."

These three young brokers, along with Ronald Swart of Detroit, Patrick Westmoreland of Santa Monica, Calif., and Arthur Kalbhen of Philadelphia, had just completed a six month course on investing at the brokerage house of Paine, Webber, Jackson Curtis.

By now they are back home selling to their first customers. After 10 or 12 months they lose their trainees salary of $700 a month and go on straight commission, which amount to $15,000 of $20,000 after five years. Beyond that there is no limit. They could accumulate a fortune.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

ARMENIA'S greatest gift to modern letters, the late Michael Arlen, went literally from rags to riches on the wings of his fashionable novel, "The Green Hat." When the royalties started rolling in, Arlen, in the words of a comparable worshiper of the rich and famous, "restrained himself with great strength of character" from paying his back rent or even reimbursing some friends who had tided him over in less prosperous times, and promptly forked over his entire new-found wealth on "the biggest, flashiest Rolls-Royce, in blinding canary yellow." "All I want of the world is very little," explained Arlen meekly. "I want only the best of everything and there is so little of that."

A solemn young man graduated from Columbia Law School with top honors, then handed his diploma to his father with this plea: "Well, I finished law school to please you and Mom. Now can I be a motorcycle cop like I've dreamed of being since I was six?"

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

I am pregnant for the first time after four years of marriage. My husband and I are thrilled, but I must confess I am a little frightened. My friends for some strange reason seem to deliberately frighten me with detailed descriptions of childbirth and the awful pain that goes with it. Even though I don't believe it can be as bad as they say I still am worried.

Mrs. V.B., California

Dear Mrs. B.: The very day your letter arrived another one came from a woman who lives in another part of the United States. I'll reprint part of it in detail and hope that it gives you and other readers the sense of security that I would like to convey.

It says: "Dear Dr. Coleman, I know that your columns are meant to answer health questions and to help us understand the medical advances that are being made. I have a feeling that you wish to bring to us a sense of hope rather than a feeling of fear."

"I write to you hoping to relieve the confused and mixed up minds of young girls and expectant mothers about childbirth."

"I believe it is unfair to frighten defenseless girls and women who are expecting their first child with false and harmful stories about the pain and difficulties of childbirth."

"It is, as every woman knows, a plain and honest truth that childbirth is a normal, happy fulfillment of a life's dream. Pregnancy is a particularly beautiful time in a home filled with mutual devotion."

"I only hope that somewhere some young mother can be spared the fears that were unnecessarily imposed on me by unthinking friends."

It is signed "a friend," and indeed she is one to you and other young women if she has helped to spare you some of the obvious anxiety you feel.

71 am certain that your friends do not deliberately intend to scare you. The temptation to talk about their "special operation" their "special difficult childbirth" is one of the fallacies of many people.

Isn't it strange that so many women who have had their own "specially difficult childbirth" look at their newborn and an hour later say, "I most certainly will be happy to do it again."

Physicians who deliver babies understand the concern of women who are pregnant for the first time. They teach them and their husbands all about the natural birth process so that nothing comes as a surprise and there is clear understanding of the safety of each step.

Modern methods of pain control can bring relief without doing any harm to the baby. If there is any unusually long period of delivery there are new methods for speeding up labor with complete safety to the mother and to the child. Students of the technique of natural childbirth have, with their doctors, converted the labor process into one of the most gratifying periods of their lives.

Your fear is unfounded and you will reap great emotional benefits by speaking about your pregnancy to your doctor and discouraging technical tales with your friends.

When the royalties started rolling in, Arlen, in the words of a comparable worshiper of the rich and famous, "restrained himself with great strength of character" from paying his back rent or even reimbursing some friends who had tided him over in less prosperous times, and promptly forked over his entire new-found wealth on "the biggest, flashiest Rolls-Royce, in blinding canary yellow." "All I want of the world is very little," explained Arlen meekly. "I want only the best of everything and there is so little of that."

A solemn young man graduated from Columbia Law School with top honors, then handed his diploma to his father with this plea: "Well, I finished law school to please you and Mom. Now can I be a motorcycle cop like I've dreamed of being since I was six?"

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...
By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

I am pregnant for the first time after four years of marriage. My husband and I are thrilled, but I must confess I am a little frightened. My friends for some strange reason seem to deliberately frighten me with detailed descriptions of childbirth and the awful pain that goes with it. Even though I don't believe it can be as bad as they say I still am worried.

Mrs. V.B., California

Dear Mrs. B.: The very day your letter arrived another one came from a woman who lives in another part of the United States. I'll reprint part of it in detail and hope that it gives you and other readers the sense of security that I would like to convey.

It says: "Dear Dr. Coleman, I know that your columns are meant to answer health questions and to help us understand the medical advances that are being made. I have a feeling that you wish to bring to us a sense of hope rather than a feeling of fear."

"I write to you hoping to relieve the confused and mixed up minds of young girls and expectant mothers about childbirth."

"I believe it is unfair to frighten defenseless girls and women who are expecting their first child with false and harmful stories about the pain and difficulties of childbirth."

"It is, as every woman knows, a plain and honest truth that childbirth is a normal, happy fulfillment of a life's dream. Pregnancy is a particularly beautiful time in a home filled with mutual devotion."

"I only hope that somewhere some young mother can be spared the fears that were unnecessarily imposed on me by unthinking friends."

It is signed "a friend," and indeed she is one to you and other young women if she has helped to spare you some of the

Pills Offered for Hanged Over

By EDDY GILMORE
(For Hal Boyle)

LONDON (AP) — "This is," said the man behind the drugstore counter, "the first hang-over cure we've ever offered the public."

He held up a small plastic tube of pills and smiled.

"Does it work?"

"We would hardly be selling it, sir, if we didn't believe in it."

His drugstore — called a chemist's shop in Britain — was one of a chain, a big chain with a long and respected reputation.

In a voice softened by years of discreet inquiry into the aches and pains of men, women and children, he asked ever so gently:

"Are you, sir, as they say, hanged over?"

"Let us say that I was chewed a bit by Old Rover last night."

"Beg pardon?" He looked puzzled.

"Yes, I'm not feeling very well, but we say hung over, not hanged over."

"Really, sir?" he chuckled. "Comes to the same thing though, what?"

"What what?"

"Hanged over and hung over," he answered, and then down to business.

On the side of the little tube, in black letters, the makers say the pellets are for hangovers.

Back home this consumer consumed not one but two, and waited.

In about 15 minutes the end of the world seemed less imminent, the little man with the hammer stopped his violent

pounding inside the skull, the brown furry taste in the mouth tasted less brown and furry and the cat moving across the carpet ceased stomping.

Britain's newly advertised hangover cure is the brain child of Howard L. Rice. He says he has clinically tested it on 1,000 men and women all suffering from hangovers.

The Dunlop Committee on Safety of Drugs, a standing committee, tested it for any possible side effects. The committee reported it found none, and passed the pills for sale and consumption.

He said the lost things are vitamins in the B group.

"We've put them in the pills," said Rice.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—The mask of Wall Street seldom reveals its anguish or hope, for a Wall Street broker must abide with outward serenity his personal extremes of black pessimism and glittering optimism.

The vice president of one of the nation's best-known investment advisory houses described a few days ago the members of a group that includes some of the sharpest brains in finance.

But under even the most dismal circumstances it isn't difficult to find enthusiasm, for that too, is basic to selling securities to the country's 21 million stockholders.

As the market slid recently to its lowest in two years, six young registered representatives who had just been certified to sell, gathered over lunch and talked bullishly.

"I'd rather be coming in now than when the market is at the top," said Reginald Johnston, 28, of Boston, who had forsaken a job as industrial salesman to sell securities.

As he spoke the Dow Jones industrial stock average was in a steep decline through 900.

"There are better buying opportunities now," he said. "The big job is to convince people to buy. Perhaps a high market would be more difficult to sell; the investors would be satisfied with their brokers."

A low market "can only work to our advantage," said Blair Purcell, 29, who was a partner in a metropolitan Washington roofing materials company. "It will be difficult at first, but this is an opportunity to buy the right stock."

Michael Mahood, 26, of Houston, Tex., who once enjoyed the steadiness of an engineering job, was bullish too. He was less happy about his personal situation. "I've lost money right now," he said, "and I'm not jumping in myself."

These three young brokers, along with Ronald Swart of Detroit, Patrick Westmoreland of Santa Monica, Calif., and Arthur Kalbhenn of Philadelphia, had just completed a six month course on investing at the Brook-

erage house of Paine, Webber, Jackson, Curtis.

By now they are back home selling to their first customers. After 10 or 12 months they lose their trainees salary of $700 a month and go on straight commission, which amounts to $15,000 of $20,000 after five years. Beyond that there is no limit. They could accumulate a fortune.

Restaurant Break-in Not Linked to Hunger

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Lansing police can't blame hunger as the motive for a break-in in a downtown restaurant.

They said that whoever broke into the eating place brought his own chicken and cooked it over a coffee-maker heating unit. The intruder did take a few french fried onion rings, they added.

YOUR MONEY

By "Chet" McKenzie

Savings and loan associations of the 19th century were neighborhood affairs, organized for the benefit of a small group of people. And the "officers" were, so to speak, amateurs... members willing to contribute their time and effort.

As savings and loan associations grew, the need for professional, full-time management became obvious. As assets increased, people skilled in financial affairs and investments were needed, so that a large volume of savings deposited would be protected by sound management.

The staff of people we have gathered at Scioto are professionals... trained, skilled people who have built a sound, financially stable portfolio of investments to make sure that your money is protected and can return the highest possible dividends.

But we have also retained our "neighborhood" character... our identification with this community and with you as a neighbor. We know the problems and possibilities of loans and investments in this area — another good reason for saving or borrowing from

Medics Devise Tests, Treatments In Long Battle Against Emphysema

EDITOR'S NOTE — In the battle against emphysema, a dread lung disease, doctors are using such diverse equipment as treadmills and plastic table tennis balls. But thus far scientists don't even know the basic cause
of the ailment now among the nation's top cripplers. The following last of four articles on emphysema details recent treatments.

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—
Light a match, hold it six inches in front of your mouth—
and blow!

Make sure you blow with your mouth fully open. Don't purse your lips.

If you can't douse the flame,
you may be a victim of a potentially lethal lung disease called emphysema — and you should consult your doctor promptly.

Even if you pass the match test, but have been suffering, even occasionally, for shortness of breath—and have been telling yourself: "Guess it's just because I'm not as young as I used to be!"—you'd better see your doctor anyway. It may save your life.

If your doctor is suspicious —
and facilities are available in your community — you may be referred to a hospital or university medical center where there's special equipment to help diagnose this enigmatic malady.

But, says Dr. Albert Roberts,
chief of the U.S. Public Health Service Chronic Respiratory
Diseases Program:

"Nearly one-half of the nation's hospitals, and even some important medical centers, are not equipped to do an adequate job" in detecting emphysema
and its satellite cohorts.

A key testing instrument is in such centers as Minneapolis' Mt. Sinai Hospital.

With a clamp attached to your nostrils, you breathe into a valved mouthpiece linked by tubes to a tank device. The tank contains a hollow cylinder, closed at the top, floating in water. Your exhaled breath causes the cylinder to rise —
and a pen attached to it writes
lines on a graph paper.

Once your lung capacity is gauged—that is, how much air
you can breathe in and out, over and above air already abnormally trapped in there — attendants test you on:

How fast can you empty your lungs — especially, how much can you exhale in the first second?

Normal persons exhale at least 70 per cent in that first second; emphysema sufferers

score much lower.

A workout on a stationary bicycle is another test. The patient has a tube inserted in an arm artery so doctors can measure oxygen and noxious carbon dioxide in his blood upon exertion. Some hospitals use a treadmill.

At Triboro Hospital, Jamaica,
Long Island, N.Y., doctors related plans to use portable
respirometers set up in mobile vans ticketed for a community survey of possible obstructive

Hough Area To Get Aid

Rent Supplement
Contract Signed

CLEVELAND (AP) — A self
help organization in Cleveland's Hough area, the scene of racial violence this summer, will be the nation's first recipient of federal rent supplements.

Robert C. Weaver, Secretary
of Housing and Urban Development, signed the contract in Washington Thursday.

The self-help organization is HOPE Inc., a nonprofit organization founded by the Rev. Albert A. Koklowsky, sometimes called "The Slum Priest," and
the Rev. Walter E. Gravatt Jr.
of the Hough Avenue United Church of Christ.

The Department of Housing and Urban Development is providing $12,000 annually in rent assistance funds which will permit tenants to occupy 21 suits
of the Belvidere Apartments, which have been refurbished by HOPE.

With the federal rent supplements, tenants of the apartments, at 6215 6303 Belvidere
Avenue, will occupy the building at lower costs than they would otherwise be charged.

HOPE stands for "House Our People Economically."

"This is the kind of attention
we've been hoping the Hough
area would receive," said U.S.
Rep. Charles A. Vanik, a Cleveland Democrat.

"It is a modest but extremely significant start and the forerunner of many more to come,"
said Weaver.

"The beginning we make here today," he asserted, "is another step towards fulfillment of the great promise that the rent-supplement program holds for low income families trapped in substandard conditions in the ghettos of our cities."

Reservation of another grant
in Cleveland was announced
Thursday by President Johnson.
It would be for the 9,000 Houji
Corp., a project planned by Zarembo & Sons builders here.

breathing difficulties among apparently healthy working men.

The Long Island study — to get under way this month — will be the first attempt to determine whether early, or potentially, victims of emphysema can have it arrested, so as to prevent "the usually progressive and devastating effects of the disease."

Men showing suspicious signs will be asked to attend a special clinic at least monthly.

If the Long Island study
works out, the Public Health Service — sponsoring the study
— would attempt to have such preventive clinics established nationally. Moreover, in the future, you might be able to get a breathing test at a mobile station, just like chest X-rays are now available.

So, now you've found out you have emphysema.

The doctors will prescribe treatment including use of a breathing machine. Exercises to help drain any surplus mucus
from bronchial tubes, and medications to help open clogged airways — the extent of treatment for average, established cases, plus use of portable oxygen tanks sometimes.

But rehabilitation, even of very severe cases, is possible.

The Public Health Service
says two pioneering studies in pulmonary rehabilitation — at
New York University's Institute
of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation; and Moss Rehabilitation Hospital and Albert Einstein Medical Center, Philadelphia — have suggested:

"Nearly 50 per cent of the severely disabled patients of chronic respiratory disease can be helped to the point of self-sufficiency, and in many cases to the point of returning to mostly sedentary work."

The breathing exercises are designed primarily to make patients accept belly breathing —
that is, using the diaphragm,
the abdominal muscle just beneath the lungs, to a greater extent than breathing by expanding the chest.

In one breathing exercise, the patient lies prone, breathes

too much strain on their hearts."

"Some of them don't have the knowledge, and the courage, to quit working."

"Also, when these patients are sitting quietly, they look okay, so sometimes, their families and friends don't believe they're sick — and they accuse them of goldbricking."

Wright, a clinician, also does research exploring the possible causes of emphysema.

He says there's no evidence yet that such things as cigarette smoking, air pollution, or infections, actually cause the disease, at least by themselves.

Possibly, he says, a double, or even triple, causative mechanism is at work in emphysema — requiring an "inciting cause" — such as an irritant agent of some type — but also demanding that there be some lung tissue defect, inborn or otherwise, in those individuals exposed to the irritant.

"To cause a given disease, you've got to have the agent, and also the man who will respond to the agent in an untoward fashion," he says, adding:

"It takes two to tango."

place of beginning, containing one acre of land, more or less. Being a part of the N. E. Quarter of Section 12, Range 22, Township 2 M.,
and State of Ohio.

EXCEPTING 80 feet off of the East side of said one-acre tract conveyed to Ralph A. Mets and Wilma J. Mets by Deed dated April 16, 1962, and recorded in Deed
Book 173, Page 201, Pickaway County Records. For prior deed see Deed Book 133, Page 304.

TRACT 2. Situated in the City of Circleville, County of Pickaway
and State of Ohio:

Being Lot No. Forty - Nine (49) in the Turner Subdivision to the City of Circleville, Ohio, according to the recorded plat thereof, and being situated in the City of Circleville, Pickaway County, Ohio. For prior deed see Deed Book 172, Page 467.

A portion of said bankrupts' estate consists of their equity in a certain Land Contract whereby Floyd H.
Mets and Elsie Marie Mets are purchasing Lot Numbers 107, 108, 109, 110 and 111 in Block D, Brint-linger's Proposed Addition to the Village of Ashville, Ohio, that the contract purchase price was $3, 438.79 and the balance due thereon by bankrupts as of May 9, 1966, was $2,016.05.

Said sale will be conducted by Roland Featheringham, as auctioneer, to the highest and best bidder for cash or certified check for each individual item of such property; high bids accepted must be accompanied by down payment of 100 per cent of amount bid, otherwise the property will be re-offered for sale, and all property will be offered for sale and sold subject to valid liens, for taxes or otherwise, which may exist against it, to the extent of the right, title and interest that the bankrupt had, and the undersigned trustee now has in the same.

(PERSONAL PROPERTY)

The undersigned, as trustee in bankruptcy of the estate of the above named bankrupts, has been further authorized by the above mentioned Court to sell certain property of said bankrupts at private sale to the highest and best bidder for cash. Said personal property being described as follows:

- 1 Large Press

- 1 Fluorescent Light fixture (9 ft.)
- 1 Volkswagen

The property so authorized to be sold consists of dry cleaning business assets presently located in the Village of Ashville and is open for inspection by appointment only by contacting the undersigned at 25 N.
Long Street, Ashville, Ohio; or provided that the sale thereof shall be subject to a lien thereon in favor of The American Loan and Finance, 120 East Main Street, Circleville, Ohio, a secured creditor herein.

Such property shall be sold on sealed bids to the highest and best bidder for cash, according to the bids received by the undersigned up to 10:00 o'clock A. M. on the 15th day of September, 1966, and each such bid to be considered as such, must be accompanied by certified check in amount of 100 per cent of bid. Checks from unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned.

Sale of both REAL AND PER-SONAL PROPERTY above mentioned is of such an interest as bankrupts may have had in such property at time of filing bankruptcy petition herein, subject to any valid liens or encumbrances that may vest against either or both types of said property; SALE OF BOTH REAL AND PERSONAL PROPERTY shall be final unless the amount of bid is less than 70 per cent of the appraised value of the property sold, in which latter event they are subject to confirmation by the Court aforesaid.

Medics Devise Tests, Treatments In Long Battle Against Emphysema

EDITOR'S NOTE — In the battle against emphysema, a dread lung disease, doctors are using such diverse equipment as treadmills and plastic table tennis balls. But thus far scientists
don't even know the basic cause
of the ailment now among the nation's top cripplers. The following last of four articles on emphysema details recent treatments.

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)
—Light a match, hold it six inches in front of your mouth—
and blow!

Make sure you blow with your mouth fully open. Don't purse
your lips.

If you can't douse the flame,
you may be a victim of a potentially lethal lung disease called emphysema — and you should consult your doctor promptly.

Even if you pass the match test,
but have been suffering,
even occasionally, for shortness of breath—and have been telling yourself: "Guess it's just because I'm not as young as I used to be!"—you'd better see your doctor anyway. It may save your life.

If your doctor is suspicious —
and facilities are available in your community — you may be referred to a hospital or university medical center where there's special equipment to help diagnose this enigmatic
malady.

But, says Dr. Albert Roberts,
chief of the U.S. Public Health Service Chronic Respiratory
Diseases Program:

"Nearly one-half of the nation's hospitals, and even some important medical centers, are
not equipped to do an adequate
job" in detecting emphysema
and its satellite cohorts.

A key testing instrument is a respirometer used in such centers as Minneapolis' Mt. Sinai Hospital.

With a clamp attached to your nostrils, you breathe into a valved mouthpiece linked by tubes to a tank device. The tank
contains a hollow cylinder,
closed at the top, floating in water. Your exhaled breath causes the cylinder to rise —
and a pen attached to it writes
lines on a graph paper.

Once your lung capacity is gauged—that is, how much air
you can breathe in and out, over
and above air already abnormally trapped in there — attendants test you on:

How fast can you empty your lungs — especially, how much can you exhale in the first second?

Normal persons exhale at

second; emphysema sufferers
score much lower.

A workout on a stationary bicycle is another test. The patient has a tube inserted in an arm artery so doctors can measure oxygen and noxious carbon dioxide in his blood upon exertion. Some hospitals use a treadmill.

At Triboro Hospital, Jamaica,
Long Island, N.Y., doctors related plans to use portable
respirometers set up in mobile
vans ticketed for a community
survey of possible obstructive

Hough Area To Get Aid

Rent Supplement
Contract Signed

CLEVELAND (AP) — A self
help organization in Cleveland's Hough area, the scene of racial violence this summer, will be
the nation's first recipient of federal rent supplements.

Robert C. Weaver, Secretary
of Housing and Urban Development, signed the contract in Washington Thursday.

The self-help organization is HOPE Inc., a nonprofit organization founded by the Rev. Albert A. Koblowsky, sometimes called "The Slum Priest," and
the Rev. Walter E. Gravatt Jr.,
of the Hough Avenue United Church of Christ.

The Department of Housing
and Urban Development is providing $12,000 annually in rent assistance funds which will permit tenants to occupy 21 suits
of the Belvidere Apartments,
HOPE.

With the federal rent supplements, tenants of the apartments, at 6215 6303 Belvidere
Avenue, will occupy the building
at lower costs than they would otherwise be charged.

People Economically."

"This is the kind of attention
we've been hoping the Hough
area would receive," said U.S.
Rep. Charles A. Vanik, a Cleveland Democrat.

"It is a modest but extremely significant start and the forerunner of many more to come,"
said Weaver.

"The beginning we make here
today," he asserted, "is another step towards fulfillment of the great promise that the rent-supplement program holds for low income families trapped in substandard conditions in the ghettos of our cities."

Reservation of another grant
in Cleveland was announced
Thursday by President Johnson.
It would be for the 9,000 Houji
Corp., a project planned by Zaremba & Sons builders here.

breathing difficulties among apparently healthy working men.

The Long Island study — to get under way this month — will
be the first attempt to determine whether early, or potential, victims of emphysema can have it arrested, so as to prevent "the usually progressive
and devastating effects of the disease."

Men showing suspicious signs
will be asked to attend a special
clinic at least monthly.

If the Long Island study
works out, the Public Health Service — sponsoring the study
— would attempt to have such preventive clinics established
nationally. Moreover, in the future, you might be able to get a breathing test at a mobile station, just like chest X-rays are now available.

So, now you've found out you
have emphysema.

The doctors will prescribe treatment including use of a breathing machine. Exercises to help drain any surplus mucus
from bronchial tubes, and medications to help open clogged
airways — the extent of treatment for average, established
cases, plus use of portable oxygen tanks sometimes.

But rehabilitation, even of
very severe cases, is possible.

The Public Health Service
says two pioneering studies in pulmonary rehabilitation — at
New York University's Institute
of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation; and Moss Rehabilitation Hospital and Albert Einstein Medical Center, Philadelphia — have suggested:

"Nearly 50 per cent of the severely disabled patients of
chronic respiratory disease can be helped to the point of self-
sufficiency, and in many cases
to the point of returning to mostly sedentary work."

The breathing exercises are designed primarily to make patients accept belly breathing —
that is, using the diaphragm,
the abdominal muscle just beneath the lungs, to a greater extent than breathing by expanding the chest.

In one breathing exercise, the patient lies prone, breathes

against the pressure of his hand on his belly. Later, he uses a sandbag, or other weights.

A variation, in the walking position, is to wrap a cloth around your belly, like a night club dancer, hold one end in

Brigner Reunion Conducted at Marion Park

The family of Parker and Agtha Brigner held its first reunion Sunday at A. W. Marion State Park.

A picnic dinner was enjoyed at noon with a business meeting and election of officers following. Elected for next year were Jerry Brigner, president; Parker Brigner, vice president; Jeanette Samers, secretary; William McPherson, treasurer.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Brigner, Mr. and Mrs. James Brigner and Tim, Tam, and Jamie, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Kelly and Crystal and Steve, Mrs. Frances McPherson, all of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. William McPherson and Diane of Grove City, Mr. and Mrs. Parker Brigner of Worthington, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Brigner and Jerry, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dennis and Roxann, Vicki, Sandy and Taylor, Mrs. Helen Phillips, all of Five Points, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Samers and Sheri and Melissa of New Holland. Miss Donna Keller of Williamsport was a guest.

Shining Light Class Attends Co-Op Dinner

Members of the Shining Light Class of the First EUB Sunday School were entertained Tuesday by the Loyal Daughters' Class at a cooperative dinner, with 48 members and guests in attendance.

Invocation and grace were offered by Miss Maggie Mavis and gifts were presented by the committee to all visitors. Mrs. Richard Merrin, president of the Loyal Daughters' Class, welcomed those attending and opened the business meeting. Mrs. Elliott Mason offered prayer.

A report from the Shining Light Class was given by Mrs. Ruby Brown. Mrs. Merrin presented remarks on the theme, "Growing Old Gracefully" and read a poem.

Mrs. Arthur Wilkin presided over the devotions and program. The group sang a song with Miss Lucille Kirkwood accompanying them at the piano.

Mrs. Nolan Sims read the scripture lesson and Miss Clara Lathouse offered a prayer.

A short playlet was presented, "The Christian Woman and Her Home." Participants were Mrs. Bess Simison, Mrs. Loring Valentine and Miss Wilkin. Mrs. Frank Hawkes and Miss Kirkwood presented a duet and Mrs. Russell Jones offered a prayer. A poem was given by Mrs. Charles Ater.

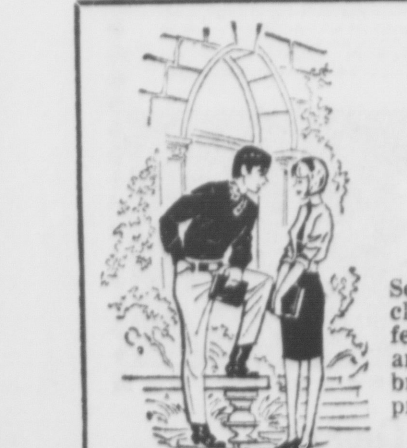

The president appointed committees to begin preparations for the annual Christmas dinner. The planning committee consisted of Miss Lathouse, Mrs. Sims, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Wilkin, Mrs. Simison, Miss Mavis, Mrs. Valentine and Mrs. Wilna Warner.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

'Sticky Fingers' Needs Help

DEAR ABBY: I have a rather sticky problem. Sticky fingers. I "collect" books. I am a college graduate and my hobby is reading, so I spend a lot of time browsing in book stores.

I usually well buy a book or two, then walk out with another (unpaid for) under my arm.

I can well afford to by the books I pick up, so I can't lay the blame on need. Nor can I say I take them for "kicks," because I take the type of books I enjoy, Zen, psychology and the classics.

Suggesting professional help would be useless for I am only slightly embarrassed by this tendency, but I would not like to get caught. What to do?

"STICKY FINGERS"
DEAR STICKY: Since you yourself have ruled out kleptomania, you appear to be a confessed petty thief. And since you enjoy reading, "pick up" (and PAY FOR!) a psychology book and learn something of "unconscious motivations and masochism."

Some people steal because they have an unconscious desire to be caught and punished. And eventually they are.

DEAR ABBY: According to a well-known marriage counselor, ninety per cent of all divorces start in the bedroom. Would you say this was true?

CURIOUS
DEAR CURIOUS: Which bedroom?

DEAR ABBY: I usually side with you, but when you say it's all right for a pregnant woman to stand in the front row of a choir, that's where I draw the line.

After all, let's have a little respect for a crowd of mixed sexes. It is embarrassing to see a pregnant woman, flaunting her condition. Sure, I have two kids, but I didn't go out and throw myself at people and force them to look at me.

Whoever says a pregnant woman is "beautiful" is a liar, and you know it. Let's be realistic about this and admit the truth.

A MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: All right, let's be realistic. Everyone on the earth got here via the same route — a pregnant woman. So why embarrassment? "Beauty," they say, "lies in the eye of the beholder." And to many, a pregnant woman is indeed beautiful.

Leftover cooked elbow macaroni may be used in a salad. Add mayonnaise, chopped onion and pickle.

Brigner Reunion Conducted at Marion Park

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Brigner, Mr. and Mrs. James Brigner and Tim, Tam, and Jamie, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Kelly and Crystal and Steve, Mrs. Frances McPherson, all of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. William McPherson and Diane of Grove City, Mr. and Mrs. Parker Brigner of Worthington, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Brigner and Jerry, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dennis and Roxann, Vicki, Sandy and Taylor, Mrs. Helen Phillips, all of Five Points, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Samers and Sheri and Melissa of New Holland, Miss Donna Keller of Williamsport was a guest.

Shining Light Class Attends Co-Op Dinner

Members of the Shining Light Class of the First EUB Sunday School were entertained Tuesday by the Loyal Daughters' Class at a cooperative dinner, with 48 members and guests in attendance.

Invocation and grace were offered by Miss Maggie Mavis and gifts were presented by the committee to all visitors. Mrs. Richard Merrin, president of the Loyal Daughters' Class, welcomed those attending and opened the business meeting. Mrs. Elliott Mason offered prayer.

A report from the Shining Light Class was given by Mrs. Ruby Brown. Mrs. Merrin presented remarks on the theme, "Growing Old Gracefully" and read a poem.

Mrs. Arthur Wilkin presided over the devotions and program. The group sang a song with Miss Lucille Kirkwood accompanying them at the piano.

Mrs. Nolan Sims read the scripture lesson and Miss Clara Lathouse offered a prayer. A short playette was presented, "The Christian Woman and Her Home." Participants were Mrs. Bess Simison, Mrs. Loring Valentine and Miss Wilkin. Mrs. Frank Hawkes and Miss Kirkwood presented a duet and Mrs. Russell Jones offered a prayer. A poem was given by Mrs. Charles Ater.

The president appointed committees to begin preparations for the annual Christmas dinner. The planning committee consisted of Miss Lathouse, Mrs. Sims, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Wilkin, Mrs. Simison, Miss Mavis, Mrs. Valentine and Mrs. Wilna Warner.

Homecoming Rally Program Scheduled by St. Paul AME

A "Rehabilitating Program" has been scheduled for Sept. 18 by the pastor, officers and members of the St. Paul AME Church, 422 S. Pickaway St.

Letters have been sent to other churches, congregations, business people, city officials and political aspirants inviting them to take part.

Also designated as a Homecoming Rally, a week-long program will get under way this Sunday. Services will be conducted each evening until the concluding program on Sept. 18.

The homecoming rally emphasizes being placed on an effort to raise funds to rehabilitate the physical structure of the church and parsonage. Strides already have been made in this direction.

Featured on the concluding program agenda will be the Rev. Margaret Peaks of the AME Church of Hillsboro, the Rev. William Ricks of Chillicothe, the Rev. G. G. Wright of Ironton, the Rev. J. B. Singletary of Mt. Vernon, the Rev. Gordon Franklin of Lancaster, the Rev. O. H. Miller of the Second Baptist Church in Circleville and inspirational music by visiting choirs.

The Rev. Mary Lou Henderson, pastor at St. Paul, and members of the congregation have extended a welcome to the public to take part in any or all of the services.

Church Basement Turned Into Summer Jazz Spot

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — A church basement on the campus of Princeton University spent the summer disguised as a jazz cabaret.

The experiment was so successful it probably will be repeated next summer.

The night spot, operated with the blessings of church leaders, had standing-room-only crowds of collegians and high school pupils all summer long.

The club, soon to close its first season, is called "The Catacomb," after the caves in which early Christians sought refuge from Roman soldiers. It derives its modern inspiration from the haunts of Parisian music enthusiasts.

"We haven't done a lot of evangelizing. It's just one way of saying that we care, to suggest to the teen-agers that the church is adaptable and flexible and not confined by tradition," the Rev. Mr. Meisel said.

A church member characterized the project as the most important work undertaken in years by the parish. The white

Ashville News Report

Mrs. John Sabine — YU 3-5731

The Ladies Aid Society of the United Brethren Church will meet in the Church basement Thursday evening. Geraldine Canter and her committee will serve as hostesses.

The Rev. and Mrs. William Sherertz and David and Sylvia returned home Monday after visiting a week with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lanham Jr., Silver Springs, Mo.

The Bastian Funeral Home ambulance made the following runs: Aug. 28 — returned Altha Pierce home from Mercy Hospital; Aug. 30 — Med Hettinger to Mercy Hospital from Dr. Hosler's office; Aug. 31 — Mrs. Maud Hines to Mercy Hospital for x-rays and returned home; Gary Leegman and Jake Fredendall to Mercy Hospital following a car accident; Sept. 1 — James White and daughter to Mercy Hospital following a car accident at State Route 752 and Walnut Creek Pike.

Mrs. Gertrude Johnson is a patient in Berger Hospital where she is undergoing treatment for back ailment.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wharton entertained last Friday evening at their home in honor of their son Randy's birthday. Invited for dinner were John Little, Terry Lockard, Jerry Sabine and Rhonda and Bruce of the home.

Glenn Cline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Cline, visited last week in Washington, D. C., as the guest of Mr. William Lane. He traveled by plane by himself and returned home by car with Mr. Lane Saturday.

Mr. Clarence O. Rush is a patient in Grant Hospital, Columbus. He has been undergoing a series of tests and treatment.

The annual Sunday School picnic of the United Brethren Church will be held Sunday in the open shelterhouse at Community Park. A basket dinner will be served at 1 p. m. Beverages will be furnished. All members of the Church and their families are invited to attend the event, sponsored by the Young Men's Class.

Breese said he felt the night club had a civilizing effect on its patrons. Rock 'n' roll is taboo. Breese said, "but it promotes soft jazz discourages dancing, conversation."

Breese, who plans to major in social relations at Harvard, said: "The music is the key thing. Some of the jazz is a little wild. But disturbances are unlikely when soft music is playing in the background."

Athens Poll Board Replacement Named

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Sec. of State Ted W. Brown announced today the appointment of William A. Lavelle, Athens, as a Democratic member of the Athens County Board of Elections.

He fills the vacancy created by the death of C. E. Handley, Gloucester. The term runs until Feb. 2, 1970.

A family picnic was held Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Deal and Tim and Karen, Glenmoor Ave., Columbus. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. John Wright and John, Tom and Sherry Kuhn of Circleville, Mr. Harry Welch, Mrs. Bernice Rathburn, Mr. and Mrs. Art Deal Sr. of South Bloomfield and Mr. and Mrs. Art Deal Jr. and Jim, Jody and Jan of Ashville.

Barbara Edwards, Debbie Flowers, Jody Deal, Brenda Bausum and Susan Sabine camped at Brown's cabin for several days last week.

Members of the Ashville Women's Civic Club held their first meeting of the year Thursday at the home of the outgoing president, Mrs. James Irwin.

Mrs. Rod Swank, president of District No. 7, Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, conducted the installation of new officers for the coming year.

New officers are Mrs. Roger Hedges, president; Mrs. Charles Morrison, vice president; Mrs. Hal Richard, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Newman, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Gene Von Ins, treasurer; Mrs. Donald Flierl, program chairman.

Guests for the evening were Jill Butt, Girls State representative sponsored by the Club, and Jody Butt, recipient of the club's Scholarship Award.

Refreshments were served by outgoing officers Mrs. Art Merishon, Mrs. Harold Bowers, Mrs. Tom Purcell, Mrs. Don Welsh, Mrs. Donald Flierl and Mrs. Irwin.

The Pythian Sisters of Ashville Temple met Tuesday evening in the K of P Hall. This was the first meeting following summer recess.

Most excellent chief Joyce Gloyd presided during the business session. Ways and means committee chairman Jill Roese reported on the banquet which was served for the Ashville Grain Co. in July.

Plans for the delegate attending the Grand Temple session in Dayton next week were discussed. Mary Costlow will represent the Temple. Also attending will be past grand chief

OSU Marching Band Plans for Reunion

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Nearly 400 alumni of the Ohio State University marching band have indicated they will take part in the band's first reunion, including a member of the original 1914 band. The Sept. 24 reunion, says Director Charles L. Spohn, will include a marching performance by the alumni musicians at the Ohio State football opener with Texas Christian.

Towboat Aide, 18, Falls in River, Drowns

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP)—An 18-year-old youth who had been working on an Ohio River towboat apparently drowned after falling into the river Thursday.

The youth, identified by police as Ronald Rozak of Hookstown, Pa., had been working on a boat servicing a dredger near here. Authorities did not recover the body Thursday.

Francile Peters and president of the home board, Eveline Zwyer.

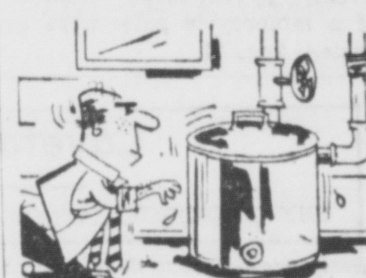

The charter of the Temple was drafted for 30 days for Sister Lulu Runkle by excellent senior Rosemary Plum, excellent junior Arlene Fortner and manager Judy Ross.

A solo was presented during the ceremony by Dorothy Cook, accompanied by Marilyn Sabine. Resolutions of respect were read by Eveline Zwyer.

Lunch was served by hostesses Mary Costlow, Evelyn Bastian and Eveline Zwyer.

The next meeting will be Sept. 20, with Gladys Rush, Julia Helser, Fannie Millar and Marilyn Sabine as hostesses.

Homecoming Rally Program Scheduled by St. Paul AME

A "Rehabilitating Program" has been scheduled for Sept. 18 by the pastor, officers and members of the St. Paul AME Church, 422 S. Pickaway St. Letters have been sent to other churches, congregations, business people, city officials and political aspirants inviting them to take part.

Also designated as a Homecoming Rally, a week-long program will get under way this Sunday. Services will be conducted each evening until the concluding program on Sept. 18.

The homecoming and rally emphasis is being placed on an effort to raise funds to rehabilitate the physical structure of the church and parsonage. Strides already have been made in this direction.

The St. Paul AME congregation hopes to raise $1,000 at the Sept. 18 service, scheduled 1 to 3 p. m. The rally will terminate with a celebration and smorgasbord fellowship lunch.

Featured on the concluding program agenda will be the Rev. Margaret Peaks of the AME Church of Hillsboro, the Rev. William Ricks of Chillicothe, the Rev. G. G. Wright of Ironton, the Rev. J. B. Singletary of Mt. Vernon, the Rev. Gordon Franklin of Lancaster, the Rev. O. H. Miller of the Second Baptist Church in Circleville and inspirational music by visiting choirs.

The Rev. Mary Lou Henderson, pastor at St. Paul, and members of the congregation have extended a welcome to the public to take part in any or all of the services.

Church Basement Turned Into Summer Jazz Spot

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — A church basement on the campus of Princeton University spent the summer disguised as a jazz cabaret.

The experiment was so successful it probably will be repeated next summer.

The night spot, operated with the blessings of church leaders, had standing-room-only crowds of collegians and high school pupils all summer long.

"We wanted to show them we live in this century and not some other," observed the Rev. Donald Meisel, a minister of the First Presbyterian Church.

The club, soon to close its first season, is called "The Catacomb," after the caves in which early Christians sought refuge from Roman soldiers. It derives its modern inspiration from the haunts of Parisian music enthusiasts.

"We haven't done a lot of evangelizing. It's just one way of saying that we care, to suggest to the teenagers that the church is adaptable and flexible and not confined by tradition," the Rev. Mr. Meisel said.

A church member characterized the project as the most important work undertaken in years by the parish. The white

All members of the Church and their families are invited to attend the event, sponsored by the Young Men's Class.

Breese, who plans to major in social relations at Harvard, said: "The music is the key thing. Some of the jazz is a little wild. But disturbances are unlikely when soft music is playing in the background."

TEA PARTY

There's a strong possibility that in five more minutes someone may break one of those balloons, or spill some ice cream on someone else, and these well-mannered little ladies and gentlemen will suddenly dissolve into children! But, for the moment, they are having a wonderful time, and no matter what the consequences they are learning something.

Even such a simple situation teaches children the rudiments of getting along with one another. This isn't a lesson that comes naturally. We aren't born with built-in manners! We aren't born, for that matter, with any of the social or spiritual ingredients we need to acquire. These we have to learn — and, in turn, to teach our children.

These children are being taught, both at home and in the Church. Are yours?

Covetousness

THE CONSEQUENCES OF CONCERN FOR "THINGS"

Scripture—Exodus 20:17; Mark 10:17-22; Luke 12:13-21, 29-34.

By R. H. RAMSEY

IN ESSENCE, the commandment forbidding covetousness is a summary of all the other commandments governing our relationships with our fellows.

Covetousness is not the discontent of watching our old black-and-white TV after viewing the neighbor's new color set; nor is it the twinge of envy of another's wealth, fame or success. Covetousness is such natural emotion carried to unhealthy lengths. It is the improper desire to have that which belongs to another or to which we have no right.

Covetousness lies at the root of all the sins harmful to men's souls. Evil thoughts lead to evil deeds, and covetousness all too frequently leads to killing, adultery, stealing and lying. Thus, breaking the tenth commandment can prohibit men from keeping the rest of God's law, for we cannot keep it fully if we are covetous.

Aside from the certainty of the life to come, Jesus spoke more extensively about the inherent danger of concern for possessions than of any other fool, there were commendable traits to this man. He was honest, worked diligently, and made his fields produce abundantly. Like all good farmers, he stored his crops carefully so they would not rot. When his granaries became insufficient for such abundance, he built new ones, so his industry would not be wasted and his future even more secure.

When he knew he had more than enough to sustain him the rest of his life, he adopted the Epicurean philosophy of taking his ease, eating, drinking and being merry.

But he had not included God in his reckoning. He died suddenly, and his life, his labor, his hoarding came to naught. His sin was selfishness. He did not share his abundance with others—though there must have been hungry people then, too—but selfishly increased and kept it.

Engrossed in enriching himself outwardly, he impoverished himself inwardly. All that he had was earthly. He had laid up none of his treasures in heaven. Life is fruitless to the

GOLDEN TEXT

High regard for the acquisition of earthly goods can make us incapable of meeting the conditions necessary for eternal life. Like the rich young ruler (Mark 10:17-22), we sometimes become unwilling to give up our material wealth and follow Christ. He wanted God—as do we—but not at the cost of his gold. He wanted eternal life—as do we—but not at the cost of his earthly luxury.

"Things" cannot make a man rich before God, for, as Jesus often insisted, a righteous life is the only thing that counts with God. Indeed, what the world terms "success" can be spiritually costly, for it may be failure in God's sight.

The covetous man who asked Jesus to bid his brother divide an inheritance, offended Him, for He had come into the world as God's Son, not to be a judge or divider over men. It also afforded Him an opportunity to warn of the consequences of covetousness through the parable of the rich man who built new barns.

The conclusion is obvious. The covetous possession of things violates the tenth commandment. True wealth is not what we accumulate, but our use of our worldly goods, our attitude toward our own possessions and those of others.

The parable does not condemn diligence, industry, thrift and foresight. Rather, it condemns obsession with "things" and their accumulation. Christians should be careful of the necessities of life, but not concerned or anxious over them. The Father who gave us life knows our needs and will provide for us as He does for all of nature—even though what He provides is honest toil.

Jesus urges us to seek "the kingdom of God and all these things shall be added." This quest for the kingdom should come first, taking precedence over "things." There we should lay up our treasure.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Sept. 9, the 252nd day of 1966. There are 113 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1776, the Continental Congress resolved that thereafter in all Continental commissions the words "United States" be used instead of "United Colonies."

On this date: In 1850, California was admitted to the Union.

In 1940, Chungking was proclaimed China's wartime capital.

In 1943, Allied troops landed at Salerno, Italy.

In 1945, Gen. Douglas MacArthur outlined the policy to be used in the occupation of Japan.

In 1957, President Dwight Eisenhower signed a civil rights bill empowering the government to enforce the right to vote with court injunctions.

Ten years ago Integration of Negroes into previously all white schools was causing racial unrest, sporadic disorders and threats of ob violence in several Southern states as fall school terms were beginning.

Five years ago — Indian Prime Minister Nehru ended a four-day conference in Moscow with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

On year ago — French President Charles de Gaulle announced at a press conference that after 1969 France no longer would accept joint command of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Local Baha'i Group Lists Weekly Thought

To the searching mind, able to believe that God has a Message for the World Today in its time of supreme crisis, the Sacred Writings of the Baha'i World Faith offer the purity, the beauty, and the inspiration which can raise mind and soul above discord and confusion, and reveal to him the pattern of a New Age.

Covetousness

THE CONSEQUENCES OF CONCERN FOR "THINGS"

Scripture—Exodus 20:17; Mark 10:17-22; Luke 12:13-21, 29-34.

By R. H. RAMSEY

IN ESSENCE, the commandment forbidding covetousness is a summary of all the other commandments governing our relationships with our fellows. Covetousness is not the discontent of watching our old black-and-white TV after viewing the neighbor's new color set; nor is it the twinge of envy of another's wealth, fame or success. Covetousness is such natural emotion carried to unhealthy lengths. It is the improper desire to have that which belongs to another or to which we have no right. Covetousness lies at the root of all the sins harmful to men's souls. Evil thoughts lead to evil deeds, and covetousness all too frequently leads to killing, adultery, stealing and lying. Thus, breaking the tenth commandment can prohibit men from keeping the rest of God's law, for we cannot keep it fully if we are covetous.

Aside from the certainty of the life to come, Jesus spoke more extensively about the inherent danger of concern for possessions than of any other fool, there were commendable traits to this man. He was honest, worked diligently, and made his fields produce abundantly. Like all good farmers, he stored his crops carefully so they would not rot. When his granaries became insufficient for such abundance, he built new ones, so his industry would not be wasted and his future even more secure.

When he knew he had more than enough to sustain him the rest of his life, he adopted the Epicurean philosophy of taking his ease, eating, drinking and being merry. But he had not included God in his reckoning. He died suddenly, and his life, his labor, his hoarding came to naught. His sin was selfishness. He did not share his abundance with others—though there must have been hungry people then, too—but selfishly increased and kept it.

Engrossed in enriching himself outwardly, he impoverished himself inwardly. All that he had was earthly. He had laid up none of his treasures in heaven. Life is fruitless to the aspect of life. High regard for the acquisition of earthly goods can make us incapable of meeting the conditions necessary for eternal life. Like the rich young ruler (Mark 10:17-22), we sometimes become unwilling to give up our material wealth and follow Christ. He wanted God—as do we—but not at the cost of his gold. He wanted eternal life—as do we—but not at the cost of his earthly luxury.

"Things" cannot make a man rich before God, for, as Jesus often insisted, a righteous life is the only thing that counts with God. Indeed, what the world terms "success" can be spiritually costly, for it may be failure in God's sight.

The covetous man who asked Jesus to bid his brother divide an inheritance, offended Him, for He had come into the world as God's Son, not to be a judge or divider over men. It also afforded Him an opportunity to warn of the consequences of covetousness through the parable of the rich man who built new barns.

Though he is later proved a

The conclusion is obvious. The covetous possession of things violates the tenth commandment. True wealth is not what we accumulate, but our use of our worldly goods, our attitude toward our own possessions and those of others.

The parable does not condemn diligence, industry, thrift and foresight. Rather, it condemns obsession with "things" and their accumulation. Christians should be careful of the necessities of life, but not concerned or anxious over them. The Father who gave us life knows our needs and will provide for us as He does for all of nature—even though what He provides is honest toil.

Jesus urges us to seek "the kingdom of God and all these things shall be added." This quest for the kingdom should come first, taking precedence over "things." There we should lay up our treasure.

TEA PARTY

There's a strong possibility that in five more minutes someone may break one of those balloons, or spill some ice cream on someone else, and these well-mannered little ladies and gentlemen will suddenly dissolve into children! But, for the moment, they are having a wonderful time, and no matter what the consequences they are learning something.

Even such a simple situation teaches children the rudiments of getting along with one another. This isn't a lesson that comes naturally. We aren't born with built-in manners! We aren't born, for that matter, with any of the social or spiritual ingredients we need to acquire. These we have to learn — and, in turn, to teach our children.

These children are being taught, both at home and in the Church. Are yours?

AP Guesspert Picks Colts, Browns To Win

Baltimore Given Nod over Mighty Green Bay '11'

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Green Bay and Baltimore, the teams that fought into 13-39 of sudden-death overtime to determine the Western Conference champ last December, open the National Football League season Saturday night.

The Packers were without the services of Bart Starr during most of that playoff game, won by Don Chandler's field goal, 13-10. Baltimore didn't have Johnny Unitas or Gary Cuozzo and had to struggle through with Tom Matte calling the plays.

This is really a big one for opening day. The winners will be off and running for the Western title with a psychological edge that will make them tough to beat.

The Packers beat the Colts three times last year but Baltimore has been getting ready for this one since Dec. 26.

A full program of all games is on tap for the weekend in the NFL and the American Football League, which started its season a week ago. There will be a game tonight, three on Saturday night and seven on Sunday.

With a 30 break in the AFL opening week, the old hand picker has a little cushion for this tough weekend. He'll probably need it.

Here are the picks (all games Sunday unless otherwise noted).

Baltimore 20, Green Bay 17 (Saturday night)—Colts get even for that disputed Chandler field goal last year in battle of strong defensive units. Unitas is on target with 50 record in exhibitions. Packers' attack spotty early but clicked in finale with Giants. A field goal could decide it.

Chicago 24, Detroit 7—Bears have Gale Sayers primed for fast start and pack too much punch for Lions' defense which must hold the fort all day while attack sputters.

Cleveland 21, Washington 17—Otto Graham makes his bow as Washington head coach against his old teammates. Sonny Jurgen's passes will strain Brown's secondary but Cleveland has too many horses for Redskins, even without Jim Brown.

Los Angeles 28, Atlanta 10—George Allen has Rams moving in high gear with tight defense and improved offense. Falcons are beginning to jell but they are not ready to handle experienced Rams.

Minnesota 24, San Francisco 17. Could go even higher. Vikings can move the ball, so can 49ers now that John Brodie is beginning to hit his stride. Both teams weak in deep defense but Vikings appear better prepared at this stage of season.

New York 17, Pittsburgh 10—Giants beat Steelers 6-14 in exhibition game at Ithaca, N.Y. Bill Austin has shored up offensive line and could surprise if Bill Asbury is as good as he looks. Despite loss of Tucker Frederickson, Giants have edge on passing of Earl Morrall.

St. Louis 24, Philadelphia 21—Eagles sprung a leak on defense against Redskins last week. Several key Philadelphia men in doubtful status due to injuries. Dallas draws a bye.

AFL
New York 35, Miami 7 (tonight)—Jets are unbeaten in exhibitions and figure to be too much for Dolphins in Orange Bowl, no matter whether Weeb Ewbank uses Mike Taliaferro or

NFL-AFL Merger Plan In Trouble

NEW YORK (AP) — Pete Rozelle, commissioner of the National Football League, still is voicing cautious optimism, but there's some danger the merger of the NFL and American Football League won't go through.

"We are committed to the total plan," Rozelle said in his New York offices after appearing before a congressional subcommittee meeting in Washington Thursday.

"If any aspect of that total plan — the common draft, the post-season playoff, eventual interlocking play, proposed expansion, any aspect — if any part of it is in danger then the total plan is in danger."

The proposed merger of the two professional football leagues received a mild setback when the House Antitrust Subcommittee rejected Rozelle's plea for legislation to exempt the merger from antitrust laws.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and its antitrust subcommittee, advised Rozelle to go ahead with plans to combine the two leagues into a single circuit. He warned, however, that no legislation exempting the merged league from antitrust laws will be enacted this year.

Miss Caleb Wins At Louisville

With owner Van Camp in the sulky, Miss Caleb rounded the new half-mile track in 2:10.2. The Philly Stake carried a purse of $3,025.

Del Miller of Pennsylvania, driving Cloud, finished third. Other recent victories by the Van Camp horse include two heat wins last week at the Montgomery County Fair. She was competing in the Ohio Colt Stakes.

Springfield Pacer Cops Scioto Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Pendragon, owned by the Beaver Valley Farm of Springfield, won the featured $1,200 pace by 1½ lengths in 2:06 1-5 Thursday night at Scioto Downs.

Joe Namath. Jets bombed Dolphins in exhibition 31-14.

San Diego 28, Boson 14 (Saturday night)—Chargers run hot and cold but should be flying high after opening win over Buffalo. Patriots appear improved but not that much. San Diego won exhibition from Boston 31-13.

Houston 28, Oakland 14 (Saturday night)—Wally Lemm's Oilers sprinted to fast start with George Blanda at controls in opening romp over Denver. Oakland had trouble in Miami and may not be quite ready.

Kansas City 24, Buffalo 14—Chiefs went unbeaten in preseason campaign but will run into aroused Bills, who will be playing before home folks after losing opener at San Diego. Erratic passing of sore-armed Jack Kemp leaves door open for Chiefs.

Denver draws a bye.

80 Golfers Ready for Cox Tourney

The Cox Memorial Golf Tournament slated Sunday at Upper Lansdowne Golf Links will have at least 80 golfers according to Jerry Leist, chairman of the Circleville Jaycee sponsored event.

Late entries may be made by calling Jerry Leist, GR 4-2673. Proceeds from the benefit go to Jaycees service projects.

Youth Baseball Sets September Meeting

The Circleville Youth Baseball Program board of directors will meet 8 p. m. Monday at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Coliseum.

The annual election of members to the board of directors will be on the agenda. The meeting is open to the public.

Amateur golfers John Miller and Robert Murphy qualified for the 1967 U. S. Open by shooting 290 and 293, respectively, in this year's event in San Francisco.

World Series of Golf Is Slated for Expansion

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A new format is in the works for the World Series of Golf.

Walter Schwimmer, Chicago dynamo who dreamed up the tournament in which the winners of the four major tournaments get together for a showdown, told The Associated Press Thursday of his newest idea.

Schwimmer wants to enlarge the field to eight players and extend the competition to 72 holes if he can get approval from the Professional Golfers Association.

The World Series, which enters its fifth year beginning

Saturday, has been a 36-hole affair limited to the winners of the Masters Tournament, the U.S. Open, the British Open and the PGA Tournament.

The field this year includes Jack Nicklaus, winner of the Masters and British Open; Billy Casper, U.S. Open titlist; Al Geiberger, PGA champion, and Gene Littler.

Littler was selected as the alternate on the strength of his Canadian Open victory last year because Nicklaus copped two of the top four titles.

The four players will play 18 holes Saturday and 18 Sunday in the television spectacular in which the winner takes down $50,000. Second place is worth $15,000, third $7,500, and $5,000 goes to the man who finishes last.

The winners of the four major tournaments, under Schwimmer's new plan, would still qualify for the World Series. But to get more players, Schwimmer would like to establish a system in which golfers would score a certain number of points for winning other tournaments.

In addition to the four major champions, the World Series would include the next four players who garnered the biggest number of points. All eight would play 36 holes with the top four scorers qualifying for the final 36.

"This seems to be the desire of the players themselves," said Schwimmer. "I'd like to have the PGA name a committee to determine how many points other tournaments would be worth. I think we should consider the Australian Open, the French Open and tournaments in countries like Japan to make it a real World Series of Golf."

Nicklaus, meanwhile, is favored to win the 1966 World Series, held annually at the massive Firestone Country Club measuring 7,18 yards and carrying a par of 35-35-70.

Big Jack, who hails from nearby Columbus, captured the first two World Series in 1962

Beulah Meeting Opens Sept. 17

GROVE CITY — With more than $500,000 in purses available for horsemen including $38,500 in features, Beulah Park begins its richest meeting Sept. 17.

The season will run through Oct. 29 with nine races each weekday and ten on Saturdays. Judging from business at other tracks in the area, President Robert Y. Dienst anticipates a good meeting and he has provided an "all-weather" layout for his patrons. The grandstand was completely enclosed this summer to join the clubhouse which had similar treatment two years ago. In the event of inclement weather, the club and the stands can be heated.

AP Guesspert Picks Colts, Browns To Win

Baltimore Given Nod over Mighty Green Bay '11'

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Green Bay and Baltimore, the teams that fought into 13-39 of sudden death overtime to determine the Western Conference champ last December, open the National Football League season Saturday night.

The Packers were without the services of Bart Starr during most of that playoff game, won by Don Chandler's field goal, 13-10. Baltimore didn't have Johnny Unitas or Gary Cuozzo and had to struggle through with Tom Matte calling the plays.

This is really a big one for opening day. The winners will be off and running for the Western title with a psychological edge that will make them tough to beat.

The Packers beat the Colts three times last year but Baltimore has been getting ready for this one since Dec. 26.

A full program of all games is on tap for the weekend in the NFL and the American Football League, which started its season a week ago. There will be a game tonight, three on Saturday night and seven on Sunday.

With a 30 break in the AFL opening week, the old hand picker has a little cushion for this tough weekend. He'll probably need it.

Here are the picks (all games Sunday unless otherwise noted).

Baltimore 20, Green Bay 17 (Saturday night)—Colts get even for that disputed Chandler field goal last year in battle of strong defensive units. Unitas is on target with 50 record in exhibitions. Packers' attack spotty early but clicked in finale with Giants. A field goal could decide it.

Chicago 24, Detroit 7—Bears have Gale Sayers primed for fast start and pack too much punch for Lions' defense which must hold the fort all day while attack sputters.

Cleveland 21, Washington 17—Otto Graham makes his bow as Washington head coach against his old teammates. Sonny Jurgenson's passes will strain Brown's secondary but Cleveland has too many horses for Redskins, even without Jim Brown.

Los Angeles 28, Atlanta 10—George Allen has Rams moving in high gear with tight defense and improved offense. Falcons are beginning to jell but they are not ready to handle experienced Rams.

Minnesota 24, San Francisco 17. Could go even higher. Vikings can move the ball, so can 49ers now that John Brodie is beginning to hit his stride. Both teams weak in deep defense but Vikings appear better prepared at this stage of season.

New York 17, Pittsburgh 10—Giants beat Steelers 6-14 in exhibition game at Ithaca, N.Y. Bill Austin has shored up offensive line and could surprise if Bill Asbury is as good as he looks. Despite loss of Tucker Frederickson, Giants have edge on passing of Earl Morral.

St. Louis 24, Philadelphia 21—Eagles sprung a leak on defense against Redskins last week. Several key Philadelphia men in doubtful status due to injuries. Dallas draws a bye.

AFL
New York 35, Miami 7 (tonight)—Jets are unbeaten in exhibitions and figure to be too much for Dolphins in Orange Bowl, no matter whether Weeb Ewbank uses Mike Taliaferro or

NFL-AFL Merger Plan In Trouble

NEW YORK (AP) — Pete Rozelle, commissioner of the National Football League, still is voicing cautious optimism, but there's some danger the merger of the NFL and American Football League won't go through.

"We are committed to the total plan," Rozelle said in his New York offices after appearing before a congressional subcommittee meeting in Washington Thursday.

"If any aspect of that total plan — the common draft, the post-season playoff, eventual inter-locking play, proposed expansion, any aspect — if any part of it is in danger then the total plan is in danger."

The proposed merger of the two professional football leagues received a mild setback when the House Antitrust Subcommittee rejected Rozelle's plea for legislation to exempt the merger from antitrust laws.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and its antitrust subcommittee, advised Rozelle to go ahead with plans to combine the two leagues into a single circuit. He warned, however, that no legislation exempting the merged league from antitrust laws will be enacted this year.

Miss Caleb Wins At Louisville
Miss Caleb Van, owned by the George Van Camp Stables of Circleville, captured a 2-year-old trot Friday at Louisville Downs in Kentucky.

With owner Van Camp in the sulky, Miss Caleb rounded the new half-mile track in 2:10.2. The Philly Stake carried a purse of $3,025.

Del Miller of Pennsylvania, driving Cloud, finished third.

Other recent victories by the Van Camp horse include two heat wins last week at the Montgomery County Fair. She was competing in the Ohio Colt Stakes.

Springfield Pacer Cops Scioto Feature
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Pendragon, owned by the Beaver Valley Farm of Springfield, won the featured $1,200 pace by 1½ lengths in 2:06 1-5 Thursday night at Scioto Downs.

Joe Namath. Jets bombed Dolphins in exhibition 31-14.

San Diego 28, Boston 14 (Saturday night)—Chargers run hot and cold but should be flying high after opening win over Buffalo. Patriots appear improved but not that much. San Diego won exhibition from Boston 31-13.

Houston 28, Oakland 14 (Saturday night)—Wally Lemm's Oilers sprinted to fast start with George Blanda at controls in opening romp over Denver. Oakland had trouble in Miami and may not be quite ready.

Kansas City 24, Buffalo 14—Chiefs went unbeaten in preseason campaign but will run into aroused Bills, who will be playing before home folks after losing opener at San Diego. Erratic passing of sore-armed Jack Kemp leaves door open for Chiefs.

Denver draws a bye.

80 Golfers Ready for Cox Tourney

The Cox Memorial Golf Tournament slated Sunday at Upper Lansdowne Golf Links will have at least 80 golfers according to Jerry Leist, chairman of the Circleville Jaycee sponsored event.

Three classes are open for local golfers to enter. A total of nine awards will be given to low net winners and nine to low gross winners.

Late entries may be made by calling Jerry Leist, GR 4-2673. Proceeds from the benefit go to Jaycees service projects.

Youth Baseball Sets September Meeting
The Circleville Youth Baseball Program board of directors will meet 8 p. m. Monday at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Coliseum.

The annual election of members to the board of directors will be on the agenda. The meeting is open to the public.

Redleg Pilot Eyes 4th Place Finish
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Manager Dave Bristol has his eyes on at least a fourth place finish for his Cincinnati Reds.

He insists the Reds can finish that high and they have a good chance to climb this weekend in a three-game series with the Philadelphia Phillies, beginning tonight.

The Phillies are in fourth place, five games ahead of the seventh-place Reds.

World Series of Golf Is Slated for Expansion

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A new format is in the works for the World Series of Golf.

Walter Schwimmer, Chicago dynamo who dreamed up the tournament in which the winners of the four major tournaments get together for a showdown, told The Associated Press Thursday of his newest idea.

Littler was selected as the alternate on the strength of his Canadian Open victory last year because Nicklaus copped two of the top four titles.

County Fair Pacer Pays Off at 132-1
MCCONNELSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Bay Moon went off at 132-1 and paced home a winner in one of Thursdays harness races at the Morgan County Fair. The win price was $267.20.

One of the biggest harness racing payoffs ever reported in Ohio materialized in the second heat of an event in which Bay Moon, owned by George Conners of Columbus and driven by Terry Holton, had finished ninth in the first heat.

Beulah Meeting Opens Sept. 17
GROVE CITY — With more than $500,000 in purses available for horsemen including $38,500 in features, Beulah Park begins its richest meeting Sept. 17. The session will run through Oct. 29 with nine races each weekday and ten on Saturdays.

Judging from business at other tracks in the area, President Robert Y. Dienst anticipates a good meeting and he has provided an "all-weather" layout for his patrons. ORDINANCE No. 35-66
Fixing and regulating the price that may be charged by Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc. its successors or assigns, for natural gas to the City of Circleville, Ohio, and to its inhabitants, for the period of Four (4) Years from and after the effective date of this ordinance; and repealing Ordinance No. 79-62 passed by the Council of the City of Circleville, Ohio, on the 17th day of July, 1962, entitled: "Ordinance No. 79-62 — Fixing and regulating the price that may be charged by The Ohio Fuel Gas Company, its successors or assigns, for natural gas to the City of Circleville, Ohio, and to its inhabitants, for the period of Four (4) Years from and after the effective date of this ordinance."

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO, SECTION 1: That, for the period of Four (4) Years from and after the effective date of this ordinance, the maximum price which Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc., its successors or assigns, shall be permitted to charge for and the minimum price at which it or they shall be required to furnish natural gas to the City of Circleville, Ohio, and to its inhabitants, shall be the same as is hereby fixed for each individual consumer, as follows:

Twenty-five Cents (25c) per one hundred (100) cubic feet for the first 1,500 cubic feet, used through each meter each month;
Seven and one-half Cents (7½c) per one hundred (100) cubic feet for the next 3,500 cubic feet, used through each meter each month;
Eight Cents (8c) per one hundred (100) cubic feet for the next 95,000 cubic feet, used through each meter each month;
Seven Cents (7c) per one hundred (100) cubic feet for all in excess of 100,000 cubic feet, used through each meter each month;

A Minimum Charge for each customer for each month of Two Dollars and Fifty Cents ($2.50) shall be made. If service under this rate schedule is discontinued at the request of customer, the Company shall not be under any obligation to resume service to the same customer on to same premises until the customer has made payment of an amount equal to the minimum monthly charge for each month of the intervening period, not to exceed twelve (12) months.

FUEL COST CLAUSE
The service rates prescribed above are subject to an adjustment for any change in the rates paid by Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc. (Company) to The Ohio Fuel Gas Company (Ohio Fuel) for the purchase of natural gas for use as fuel, as hereinafter provided.

Ohio Fuel's rates to the Company are regulated by the Federal Power Commission.

The service rates prescribed above are predicated upon the rate paid by the Company to Ohio Fuel of $1.87 per one thousand (1,000) cubic feet of Billing Demand and 32.05c per one thousand (1,000) cubic feet for all gas purchased and are hereinafter referred to as the "base rate."

A. Purchased Gas Adjustment
When any change is made in the rate paid by the Company to Ohio Fuel, the service rates herein shall be increased or decreased in the following manner:

(1) Gas purchased by the Company during the twelve (12) month period ended with the second month preceding the month in which a new rate of Ohio Fuel is first used in computing the monthly bill to the Company shall be priced:

(a) at the base rate, and
(b) at the new rate.

(2) The service rates shall be increased or decreased by the amount of the purchased gas adjustment as determined in paragraph A (1), effective with bills rendered on and after the 30th day of the month following the date on which a new rate of Ohio Fuel is first used in computing the monthly bill to the Company; provided that the Company shall have filed with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio and the Clerk of Council of the City of Circleville, Ohio, not less than fifteen (15) days prior to the effective date, a computation in support of said purchased gas adjustment, together with a notice that same purchased gas adjustment is being placed in effect at 12:01 A.M. on the effective date and shall apply to all bills rendered on and after that date.

B. Refund Adjustment
Whenever, during a quarterly period ending each March 31, June 30, September 30 and December 31, subsequent to the effective date of this fuel cost clause, the Company receives a refund or refunds from Ohio Fuel, the Company shall decrease the service rates in the following manner:

(1) Dividing such refund or refunds by the actual volumes of gas purchased during the twelve month period ending with the quarter in which the refund or refunds were received. The quotient, so determined to the nearest one-hundredth of a cent shall be the "refund adjustment."

(2) The service rates which would otherwise be in effect shall be decreased for a twelve month period commencing on the first day of the third month after the quarterly period in which the refund or refunds were received. The refund adjustment shall terminate at the end of said twelve months.

(3) The Company shall file with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio and the Clerk of Council of the City of Circleville, Ohio thirty (30) days prior to the effective date a computation in support of said refund adjustment together with a notice that the refund adjustment will be placed in effect on 12:01 A.M. on the effective date and shall apply to all bills rendered on and after that date for a twelve month period. Such filing shall set forth the combined effect of the current purchased gas adjustment and the refund adjustments determined herein provided for the next four (4) quarterly periods.

(4) When a refund or refunds have been used as a credit to the gas purchase cost under the Company's former fuel cost clause but not for twelve (12) months, the Company shall determine a refund adjustment for each refund or refund in the same manner as prescribed in paragraph B (1). Said refund adjustment will be applied to the service rates which would otherwise be in effect for the period remaining under the Company's former fuel cost clause. The Company shall file a computation with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio and the Clerk of Council of the City of Circleville, Ohio, in support of any refund adjustment determined under this paragraph.

(5) When any refund or a part of any refund received by the Company from Ohio Fuel has been used under such conditions and for such amounts shall not again be used to determine a refund adjustment except as provided for in paragraph B (4).

SECTION 2: That it is expressly conditioned the service to be rendered by said Company, its successors or assigns, pursuant to this ordinance shall be primarily for domestic and commercial purposes and that service shall not be extended to other consumers of different classes until such reasonable requirements for domestic and commercial purposes are fully met, and this provision shall be subject to the Company's former fuel cost clause, such refund amounts shall not again be used to determine a refund adjustment except as provided for in paragraph B (4).

SECTION 3: That the Ordinance No. 79-62 passed by the Council of the City of Circleville, Ohio, on the 17th day of July, 1962, entitled: "Ordinance No. 79-62 — Fixing and regulating the price that may be charged by The Ohio Fuel Gas Company, its successors or assigns, for natural gas to the City of Circleville, Ohio, and to its inhabitants, for the period of Four (4) Years from and after the effective date of this ordinance," is hereby repealed.

SECTION 4: The terms and conditions of the service to be rendered shall conform with and be subject to the rules and Regulations for furnishing gas service of the Company on file with and approved by The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

SECTION 5: That the natural gas furnished or delivered pursuant to the terms of this ordinance, by the said Company, shall have an average heating value of 1,000 British thermal units per cubic foot for any consecutive twelve (12) month period subject to a variance of not more than five (5) percent upward or downward.

SECTION 6: In the event the Ordinance of the City of Circleville, Ohio, should hereafter impose a tax upon the Company that is not now imposed, or should hereafter increase the rate of any tax now imposed upon the Company, then the rate on property listed in the real estate tax list and duplicate, then the rates prescribed in Section 1 shall be increased to the extent necessary to compensate the Company for the increase in cost due to such new tax or higher tax rate. This shall be done in the following manner:

(a) If the new tax or higher tax rate is computed in direct relation to gas sold or revenues received for the sale of gas, the rates set forth herein shall be adjusted to the extent necessary to recompense the Company for the amount thereof.

(b) If the new tax or higher tax rate is not related directly to gas sold or to revenues received for the sale of gas, then the total dollar effect thereof upon the cost of serving gas by the Company in the City

PICKAWAY COUNTY, OHIO

No. 24397

Arthur Clark Bowman

Plaintiff,

-vs-

Virginia Ruth Bowman

Defendant.

Virginia Ruth Bowman, whose place of residence is unknown, will take Notice that on the 11th day of August, 1966, the undersigned Arthur Clark Bowman filed his Petition against you in the Court of Common Pleas of Pickaway County, Ohio, praying for an absolute divorce and custody of minor child in Case Number 24397.

You are required to answer the said Petition by the 15th day of October, 1966, or judgment by default will be rendered against you.

ARTHUR CLARK BOWMAN
By Margulis & Gussler, Ashville, Ohio, his attorneys

ORDINANCE No. 57-66

AMENDING SECTION 28.38 OF THE CODE OF ORDINANCES OF THE CITY OF CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO AS ADOPTED AND CODIFIED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO, DURING THE YEAR 1956 UNDER ORDINANCE No. 4185.

Be it ordained by the Council of the City of Circleville, State of Ohio:

SECTION 1. That Section 28.38 of the Code of Ordinances of the City of Circleville, Ohio, under that part of the code which reads "SEWER CONNECTIONS" be amended by inserting after paragraph 4 and before paragraph 5 of Section 28.38 the following paragraph:

A. Roofs, paved or surfaced areas, yards, courts, patios, and any other surface areas shall be drained either by a storm sewer, either by draining directly to a storm sewer or by draining, directly or indirectly through a curb to a street which drains to a storm sewer.

B. Where subsoil drains are placed under a cellar floor or basement floor, or are used to encircle either the inner or outer building footers or walls, they shall not be connected to a sanitary sewer, but shall be connected to a storm sewer or shall be discharged to a sump and then discharged either to a storm sewer, or to a street gutter, or be free discharged to the existing ground level at a point not less than 10 feet from any exterior wall of any building.

C. Storm water nor any other clean unobjectionable waste shall not be drained nor discharged to any sanitary sewer.

D. In the event it is necessary to utilize a sump for the discharge of any sanitary waste to a sanitary sewer, any storm water or other unobjectionable waste to be discharged from any premises shall be handled separately by means of an additional sump prior to the discharge to a storm sewer, or to a street gutter, or to a free discharge 10 feet distant from any building wall.

SECTION 2. That Section 28.38 of the Code of Ordinances of the City of Circleville, Ohio, as amended by this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after the effective date of this amendment to the said section.

SECTION 3. That this ordinance shall be in force and take effect from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

Passed 9-6-66.

(s) Harold Clifton
President of Council

Attest: (s) Robert J. Shadley
Clerk

Approved 9-6-66.
(s) Ben H. Gordon
Mayor

Sept. 9, 16.

shall be determined, based upon operations of the Company in the City during the most recently available twelve months period ending on the last day of December or June, preceding the effective date of the new tax or higher tax rate; the total dollar effect shall then be divided by the total sales made to the types of customers covered by this ordinance during the same twelve month period and the rates prescribed herein shall be correspondingly adjusted.

The adjustment of the rates prescribed in this ordinance, as provided in subparagraphs (a) and (b) above, shall be made by rounding the mathematical result of the computations so prescribed to the nearest one-tenth of one percent (0.1%) per one thousand cubic feet.

The adjusted rate shall be placed in effect and shall apply to all meter readings occurring on and after the effective date of the statute ordinance or resolution pursuant to which the new tax or increased tax rate is imposed.

Written notification of the adjustment shall be sent to the Clerk of the City as quickly as possible after the effect of the new tax or higher tax rate can be determined.

SECTION 7: That any ordinance or resolution, or part of an ordinance or resolution, inconsistent herewith, in so far as such inconsistency, hereby repealed.

SECTION 8: That should any section or part of a section or provision of a section of the ordinance be declared void, the remainder of this ordinance shall not be affected thereby.

SECTION 9: That this ordinance shall become effective at the earliest date allowed by law, provided, however, that this ordinance shall have no force or effect whatsoever unless written acceptance of this ordinance is filed by the Company with the Clerk of the City of Circleville, Ohio, prior to the expiration of thirty (30) days from the date of this ordinance is passed.

Squirrels Said Plentiful For Ohioans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A "bumper crop" of squirrels was awaiting Ohio hunters today, the opening day of the 1966 season.

Don Thompson, game management supervisor of the Ohio Division of Wildlife, called the squirrel population awaiting hunters "excellent" despite the fact that nut and acorn crops are poor to spotting in most sections.

The division reminded hunters to purchase their 1966 hunting licenses and have it displayed on the back of their outer garment between the shoulders before entering his property.

The squirrel bag limit is four per day, possession limit eight after the first day.

GOVERNOR PLUS TWO — Governor James Rhodes (right) was guest of honor at an ox roast Thursday evening sponsored at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds by John Dunlap, Williamsport businessman-farmer, and the Massey-Ferguson Implement Co. The governor clinaxed the first day of his re-election campaign tour with the Circleville visit. He spoke to throngs in Wilmington, Jackson and Hillsboro before arriving here at about 6:30 p. m. He is seen here with Dunlap (left) and Everett Beers, Walnut Twp. farmer and Republican candidate for the newly created 21st Legislative District composed of Pickaway and Ross counties.

2,000 ATTEND OX ROAST — Approximately 2,000 people were guests of John Dunlap and the Massey-Ferguson Co. Thursday evening at the Fairgrounds for an Ox Roast. Guests were treated to shuttlebus service (above) from parking areas to the long lines waiting to be served "Wonderful World of Ohio Beef." Special guests at the event were Gov. James Rhodes and members of his cabinet. Many state and local Republican executives were on hand for the 4-7 p. m. outing.

Governor Enjoys Ox Roast, Honors Dunlap

Gov. James A. Rhodes today appointed John H. Dunlap Jr., to The Executive Order of the Ohio Commodore, in recognition of his outstanding contributions to the economic progress of Ohio.

Governor Rhodes praised Dunlap for his participation in Ohio's industrial development program and also for his lifelong conservation activities. Development Director F. P. Neuenchwander remarked that Dunlap has worked closely with the governor and the Development Department since the development program began.

Neuenchwander explained, "The Executive Order of the Ohio Commodore is a means whereby Ohio gives special recognition to those people who have, by their words, deeds and accomplishments, showered dignity and honor on the State of Ohio and have given unselfishly of their time, ability and leadership, and have pledged their continuing and undivided service, loyalty, and allegiance to the State of Ohio and to her citizens' well-being."

"Mr. Dunlap has attended development team trips to such industrial centers as New York, Chicago, and St. Louis," Neuenchwander said, "including calls on Anheuser-Busch and Ralston Purina, both of which have announced plans to establish sizable operations in Ohio."

A NATIVE of Williamsport, Dunlap is a graduate of Ohio State University. He is a farmer and represents the seventh generation of his family to farm in the Scioto Valley. The Dunlaps originally settled north of Chillicothe in 1791.

Dunlap is chairman of the Recreation and Resources

NFO State Convention Scheduled

The fourth annual state convention of the Ohio National Farmers Organization will be held Sept. 15, at the Youth Center Building, Ohio State Fairgrounds, Columbus.

According to the NFO state president Edward J. Sasey of Mantua, there will be elected delegates from 68 chartered counties of the state attending this year's convention.

The highlight of this one-day convention will be the nomination of three national directors to serve on the national board from the state of Ohio.

Theme of the convention will be the completion of our "Marketing Arrangements" and successful bargaining by the activation of contracts with processors of dairy products, grain and meat.

Reams Urges Adding 300 To Patrol

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Addition of 300 men to the State Highway Patrol and boosting patrol salaries by $1,200 a year have been proposed by State Sen. Frazier Reams Jr., Democratic candidate for governor.

Reams outlined Thursday a nine-point program he said was aimed at ending carnage on the state's streets and highways and said he would move immediately to implement it if elected.

The senator also renewed his attack on the administration of GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes and asserted in the field of highway safety it has depended on "publicity and study committees" instead of action.

Reams said his proposed $1.2 pay raise for the patrol would bring Ohio salaries in line with those already being paid in state of similar size, including Michigan, Indiana, New York, and California.

Other proposals listed by the candidate were state auto inspections, more rigid driver examinations, elimination of traffic hazards, a uniform system of signs and signals, a statewide safety education program, removal of chronic bad drivers from the highways, and compulsory tests for suspected drunk drivers.

Session for 4-H Slated on Monday

A training program for advisers, junior leaders and parents in 4-H will be conducted Monday, not Sunday as previously reported.

Devoted to training in child development, family economics and home furnishings, the program will be offered at the First Presbyterian Church in Washington C. H. from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. The instruction will be for 4-H personnel in Pickaway, Clinton, Fayette and Madison Counties.

Cleveland Museum of Art To Display 159 New Works

CLEVELAND (AP)—The precious properties are placed, the lighting is adjusted, and the Cleveland Museum of Art awaits 4,000 members and guests tonight to view 159 works of art acquired by purchase and gift to celebrate its 50th anniversary.

From Saturday through Oct. 16, the exhibition will be open to the public. Then the collection will be distributed throughout the museum in what director Sherman E. Lee anticipates will be "a little bit of a shoe-horn operation."

The new treasures span nearly 3,000 years of man's effort to create beauty in varied ways — on canvas in Spain, on silk in Iran, in white marble in China, with silver in Germany, with brass in India.

Among 14 paintings and 45 prints and drawings, the great European masters are represented: Goya and De Ribera of Spain, Ingres of France, Durer of Germany, Giovanni Di Paolo of Italy, Robert Campin (the master of Flemalle) and Van Dyke of Flanders and others.

Oriental, Egyptian, classical, Near Eastern, contemporary and decorative arts are part of the display which might almost be regarded as in itself a compact-model art museum.

A price tag of $5 million has been publicly mentioned for this golden anniversary collection which the museum accumulated quietly during the last two years.

Dr. Lee, 48 and the museum's director since 1958, said the $5 million figure was "grossly exaggerated, but highly complimentary." He would offer no substitute amount.

The Cleveland Museum of art, supported entirely by private funds, is one of the world's strongest financially and in this country reportedly second only to New York's Metropolitan.

Cleveland moved ahead of Boston when it received bequest totaling $33.5 million from Leonard C. Hanna Jr., bachelor heir to a fortune made in iron ore, coal and shipping. Hanna died in 1957 at 67, and his estate was settled 2½ years later.

In its 1965 report, the Cleveland Museum of Art listed expenditure of $1.35 million for art purchases. Its rich endowment brings it good leads from dealers and others on available quality art, but also tends to push the price up, Lee observed.

Besides dollars, many days of work and travel by the director and a dozen curators are invested in the anniversary acquisitions. "Even among the works of major importance there are some which were unknown to connoisseurs and never before displayed publicly."

Such a treasure is a group of 11 white marble sculptures, late Thirties Century, East Mediterranean. Six of these early Christian marbles are portrait busts and the others Biblical Figures—Jonah and the Good Shepherd.

A 3-foot-tall standing Buddha from the 8th century, its brass polished by the touch of worshippers' hands in India or Kashmir, is regarded as a major acquisition.

Paintings sure to gather clusters of visiting viewers are Goya's portrait of a pink-faced, bemedaled infant Don Luis De Borbon; Ribera's large oil canvas, "The Death of Adonis," and Murillo's even larger oil (almost 8 x 12 feet), "Laban Searching for his Stolen Household Goods in Rachel's Tent."

COLLEGE BOUND — David R. Willison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Willison, Route 4, will leave Sunday for Southern Ohio College, Cincinnati. Planning to become a draftsman, he is a graduate of Logan Elm High School.

Business Briefs

William Underdonk, manager of the local 84 Lumber distribution Center north of Circleville on Route 23, today announced the opening of 84 Lumber's 28th outlet in Erie, Pa.

The firm started with one lumber yard in Eighty Four, Pa., south of Pittsburgh, in 1957 and now operates in eight states with sales in excess of 30 million dollars a year.

Three more centers are scheduled to open this year and eight new locations will be in operation by the fall of 1967.
